A VISUAL FIELD GUIDE FOR CLAUDE

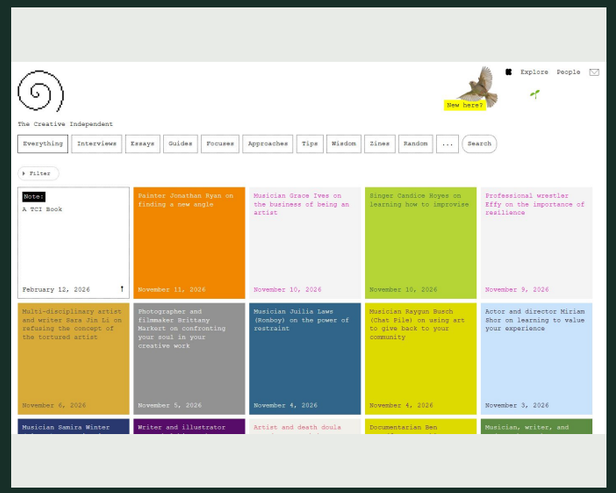

24 REAL WEBSITES.

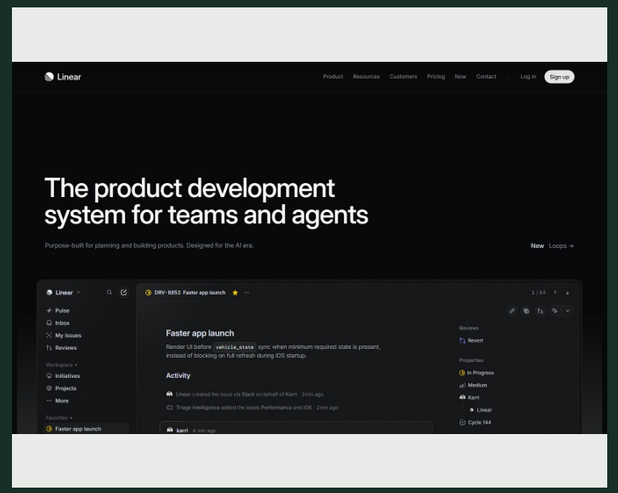

24 DIFFERENT DESIGN JOBS.

Real screenshots from cafes, radio, shops, media, institutions, products, and portfolios - with specific lessons for design decisions.

CAPTURED 11 NOV 2026 / SOURCE LINKS ON EVERY PAGE

Look across types before choosing a style.

The same design rules should produce different answers. Open the live site to inspect behavior and mobile layout; these captures show one desktop moment.

01	Cafe	La Cabra
02	Restaurant + food	Ottolenghi
03	Radio + audio	NTS
04	Home goods store	Areaware
05	Concept store	Coming Soon
06	Fashion	GANNI
07	Sport retail	Rapha
08	Physical product	teenage engineering
09	Interview publication	The Creative Independent
10	Visual essays	The Pudding
11	Investigative news	ProPublica
12	Museum	Cooper Hewitt
13	Festival	SXSW
14	Architecture studio	Snøhetta
15	Design studio	Pentagram
16	Nonprofit	charity: water
17	Art school	RISD
18	Government portal	GOV.UK
19	Civic service	NYC311
20	Software product	Linear
21	Developer docs	Stripe Docs
22	Learning product	Duolingo
23	Science portal	NASA Science
24	Personal portfolio	Tobias Ahlin

Screenshots are credited to their sites. Use these as references to study, not designs to reproduce.

CAFE

La Cabra

us.lacabra.com

LIVE SITE SCREENSHOT / 11 NOV 2026

WHY IT WORKS

A small product scene carries the mood: light, texture, cup, packaging, and a quiet type system.

BORROW THE PRINCIPLE

Use real room, food, and product photography. Put location and opening hours within easy reach.

ASK BEFORE DESIGNING

Do you have photographs of the actual place, or should I source licensed images?

Study the composition and task order. Do not copy the brand, photograph, or exact layout.

RESTAURANT + FOOD

Ottolenghi

ottolenghi.co.uk

LIVE SITE SCREENSHOT / 11 NOV 2026

WHY IT WORKS

Abundant food photography, a seasonal message, and a lively color story make the offer tangible.

BORROW THE PRINCIPLE

Let dishes, ingredients, and service lead. Make booking, menu, and location obvious.

ASK BEFORE DESIGNING

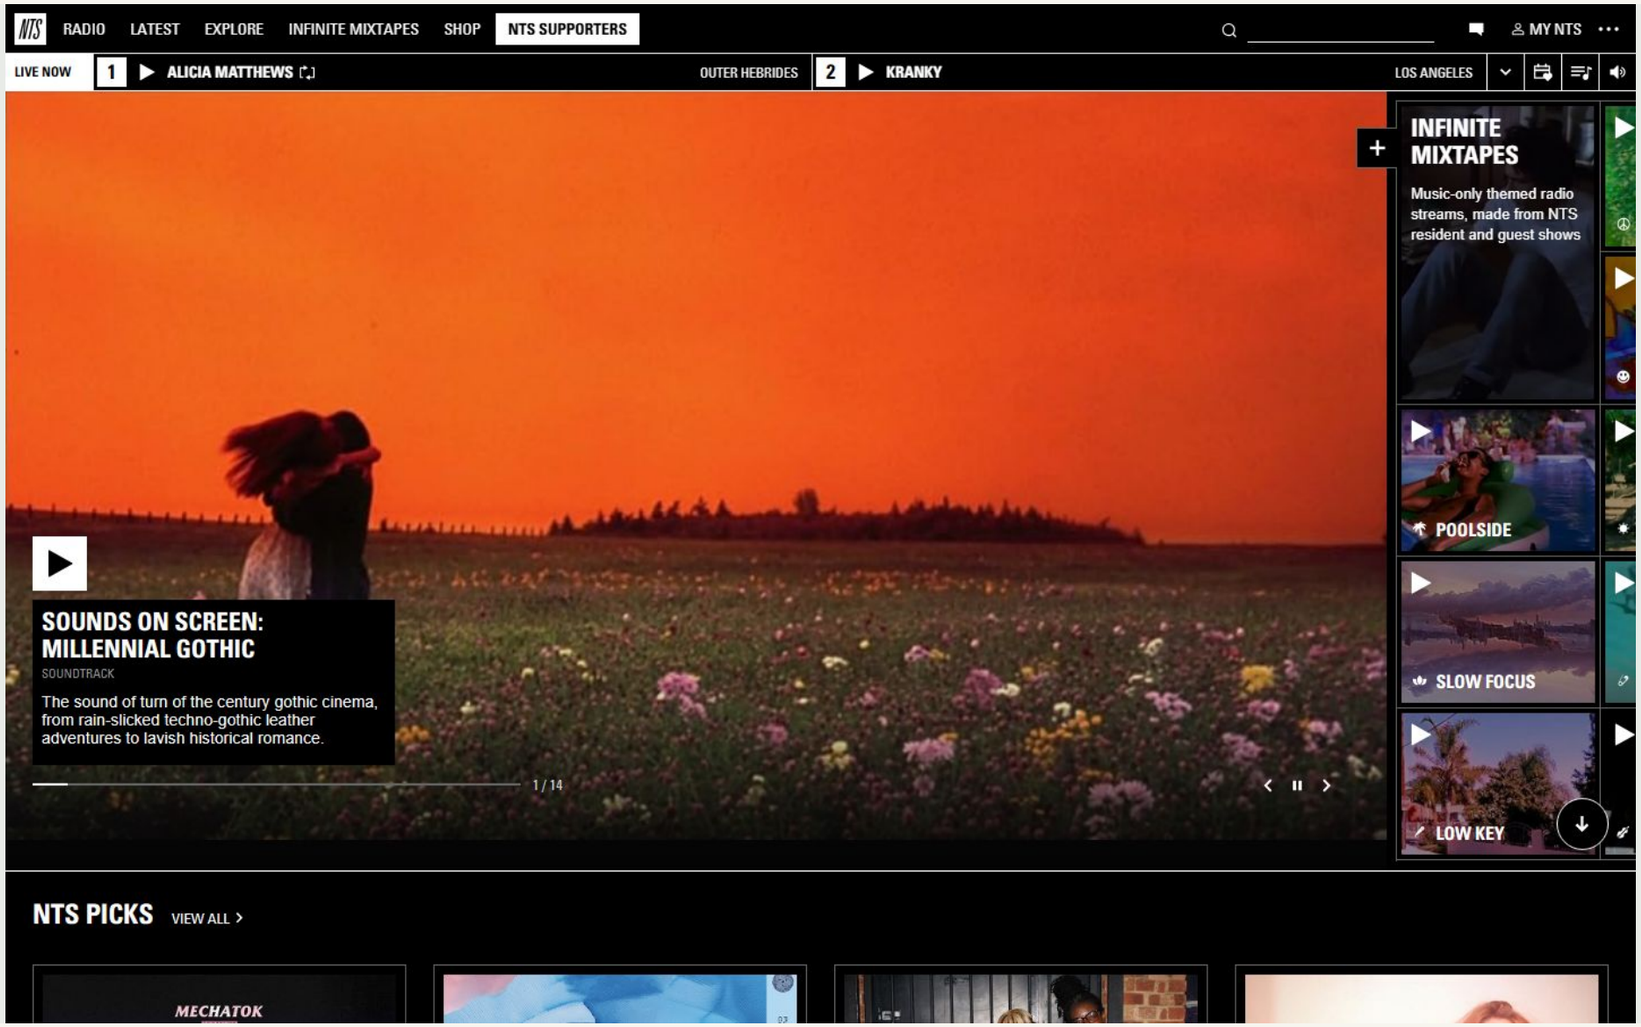

Which dishes, dining experience, and real photos should the page feature?

Study the composition and task order. Do not copy the brand, photograph, or exact layout.

RADIO + AUDIO

NTS

www.nts.live

LIVE SITE SCREENSHOT / 11 NOV 2026

WHY IT WORKS

The live channels stay visible above immersive program imagery. Listening is part of the interface.

BORROW THE PRINCIPLE

Lead with now playing, play controls, schedule, hosts, and a real offline state.

ASK BEFORE DESIGNING

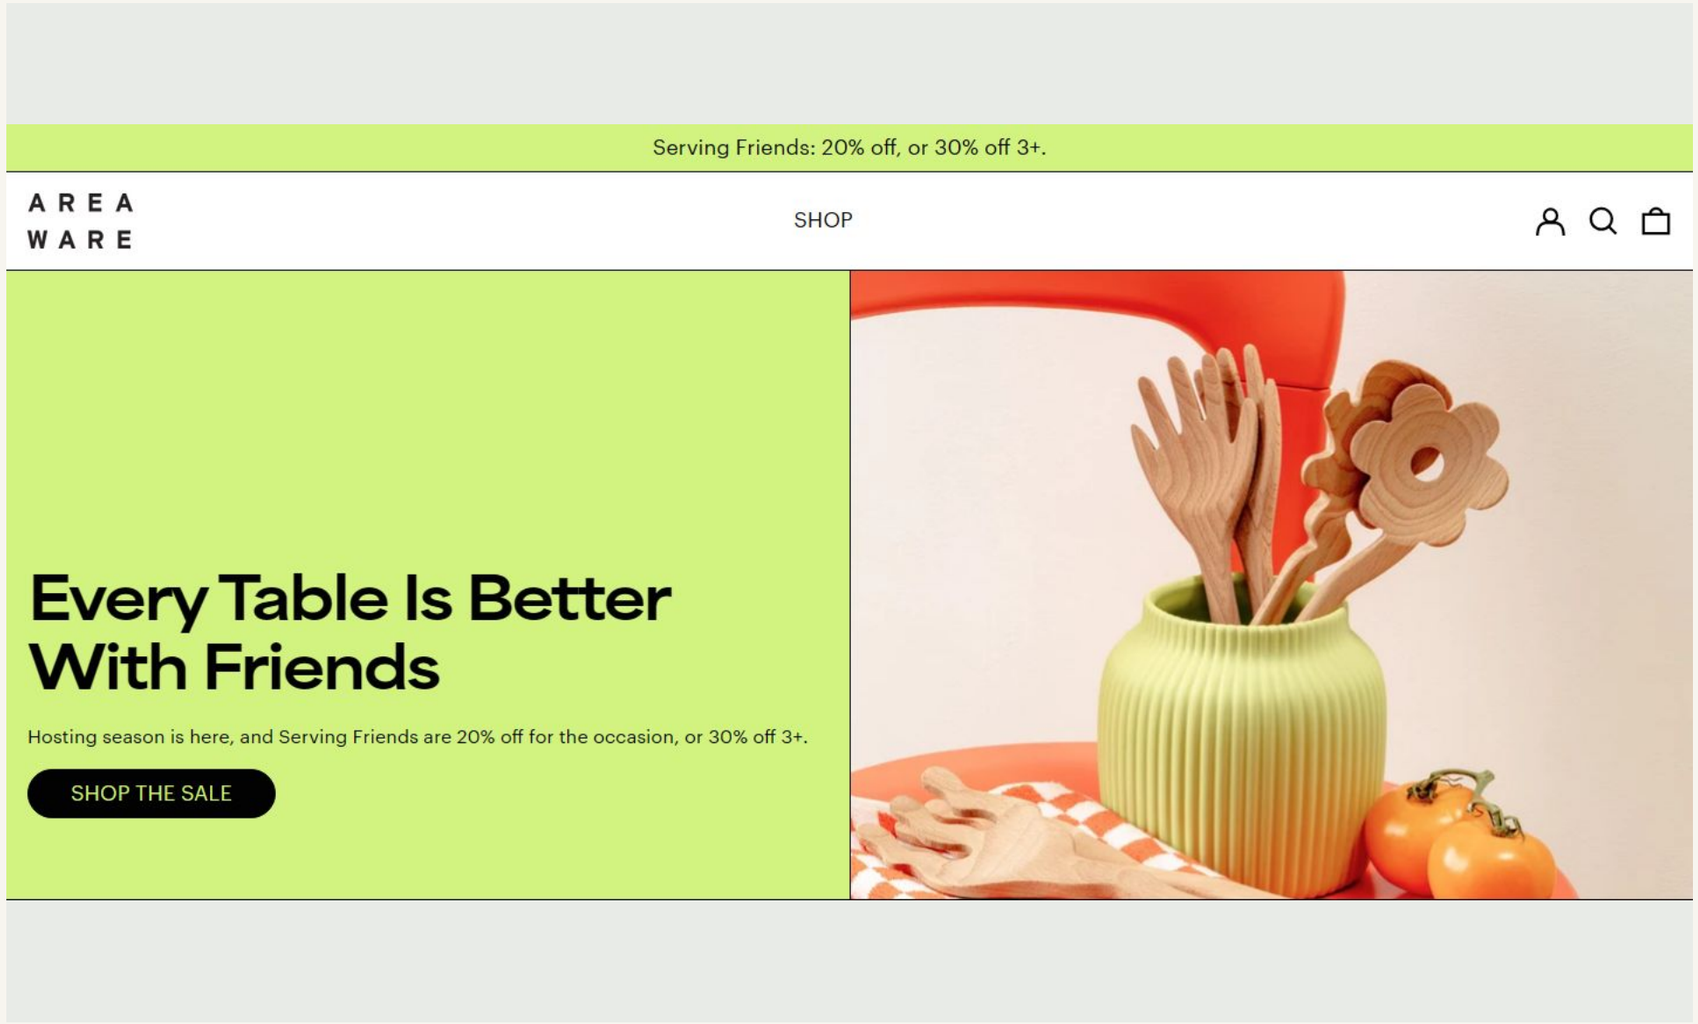

Is there a working stream and real show artwork, or is this a visual demo?

Study the composition and task order. Do not copy the brand, photograph, or exact layout.

HOME GOODS STORE

Areaware

www.areaware.com

LIVE SITE SCREENSHOT / 11 NOV 2026

WHY IT WORKS

A vivid split layout pairs a plain statement with a carefully styled object photograph.

BORROW THE PRINCIPLE

Show the object clearly and let its form, material, and context shape the page.

ASK BEFORE DESIGNING

Do you have product photography, variants, pricing, and stock information?

Study the composition and task order. Do not copy the brand, photograph, or exact layout.

CONCEPT STORE

Coming Soon

comingsoonnewyork.com

LIVE SITE SCREENSHOT / 11 NOV 2026

WHY IT WORKS

The site has a playful retail voice: eccentric objects, saturated imagery, and oversized identity.

BORROW THE PRINCIPLE

Give a curated store a point of view while keeping category, product, and purchase paths clear.

ASK BEFORE DESIGNING

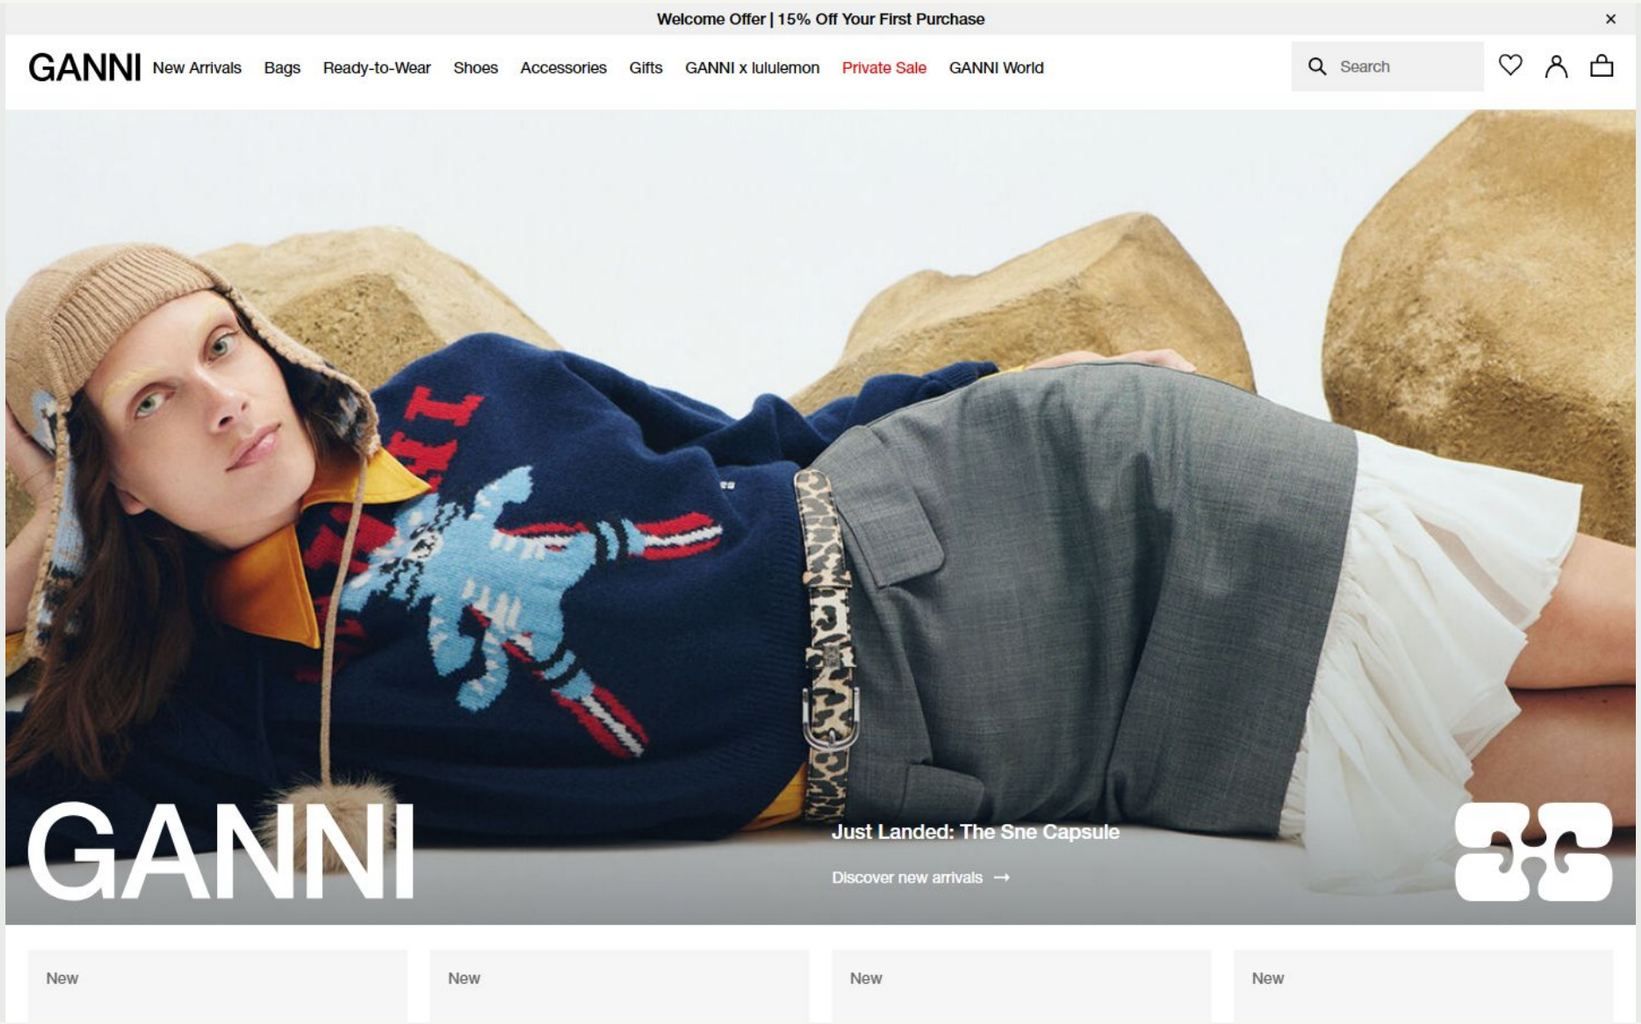

Should this shop feel playful, restrained, luxurious, or something else?

Study the composition and task order. Do not copy the brand, photograph, or exact layout.

FASHION

GANNI

www.ganni.com

LIVE SITE SCREENSHOT / 11 NOV 2026

WHY IT WORKS

Fashion photography establishes the collection before explanatory copy can flatten it.

BORROW THE PRINCIPLE

Choose a photographic attitude, crop system, and merchandise hierarchy specific to the label.

ASK BEFORE DESIGNING

What campaign or lookbook images and brand constraints already exist?

Study the composition and task order. Do not copy the brand, photograph, or exact layout.

SPORT RETAIL

Rapha

www.rapha.cc

LIVE SITE SCREENSHOT / 11 NOV 2026

WHY IT WORKS

A composed product photograph lets equipment and activity imply quality without a feature grid.

BORROW THE PRINCIPLE

Show products in useful context, then surface fit, function, price, and category access.

ASK BEFORE DESIGNING

Is the goal to sell a specific product, a range, or the brand lifestyle?

Study the composition and task order. Do not copy the brand, photograph, or exact layout.

PHYSICAL PRODUCT

teenage engineering

teenage.engineering

LIVE SITE SCREENSHOT / 11 NOV 2026

WHY IT WORKS

Industrial hardware becomes the hero. Black space, precise labels, and scale create focus.

BORROW THE PRINCIPLE

Use authentic product renders or photos, then reveal controls, details, and interaction.

ASK BEFORE DESIGNING

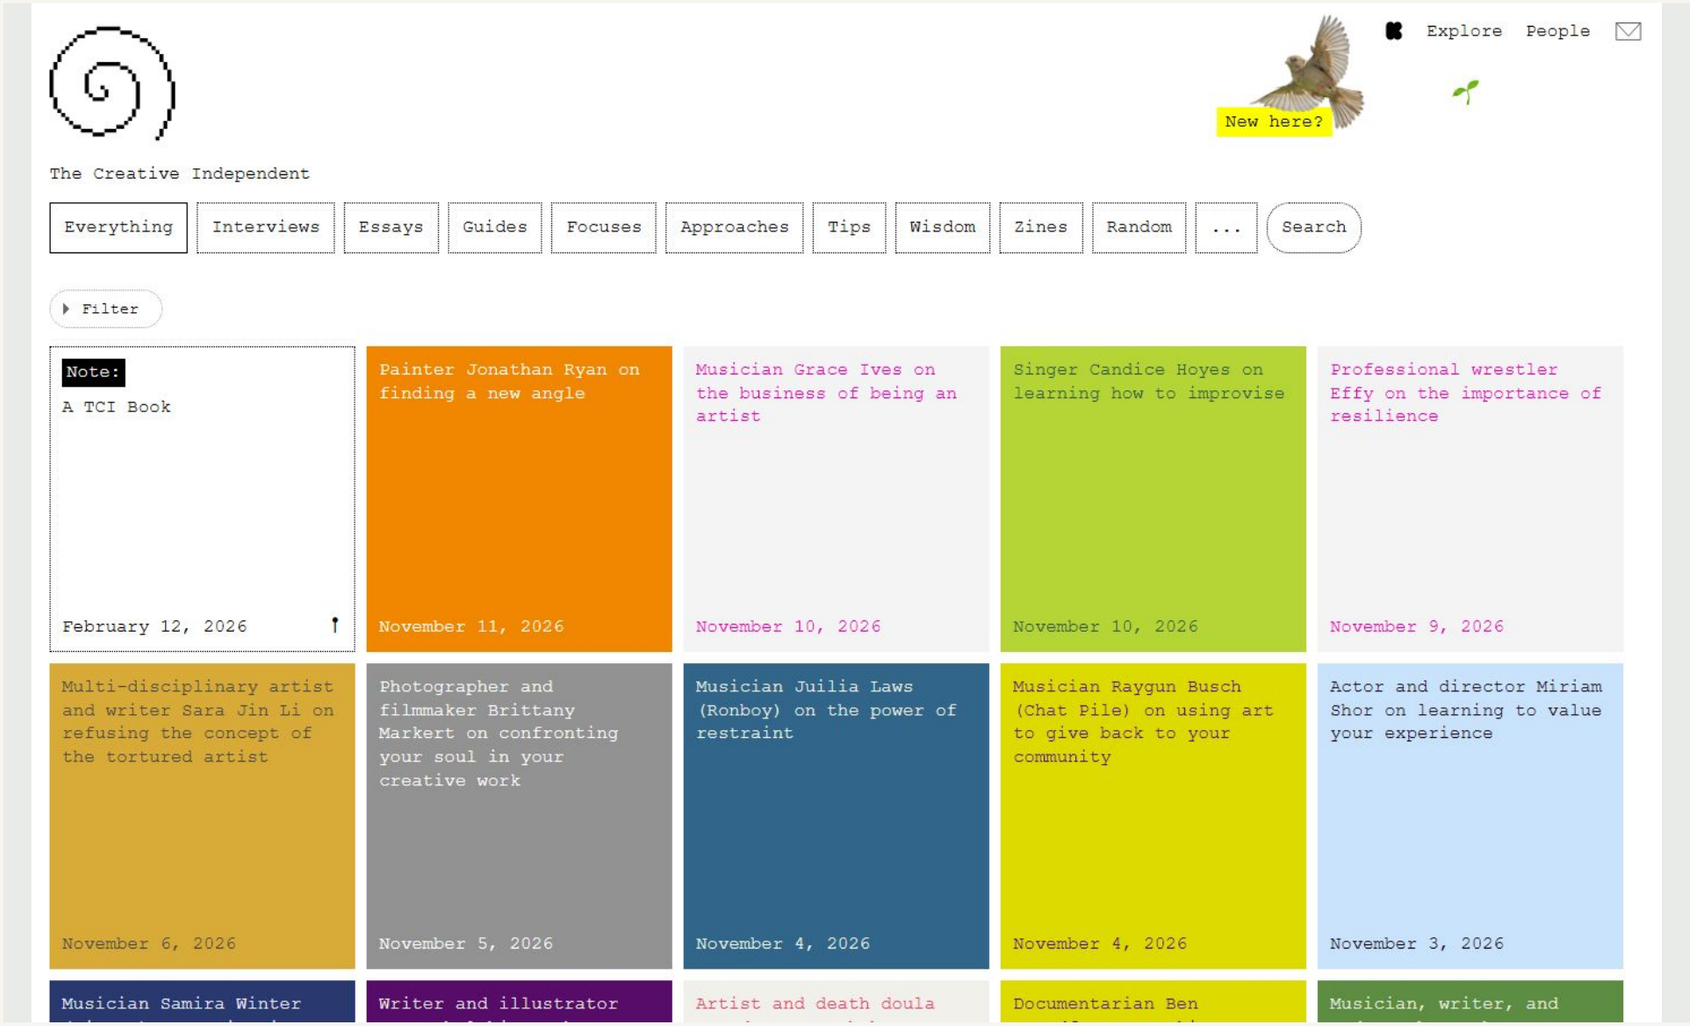

What real device imagery and technical details can we show?

Study the composition and task order. Do not copy the brand, photograph, or exact layout.

INTERVIEW PUBLICATION

The Creative Independent

thecreativeindependent.com

LIVE SITE SCREENSHOT / 11 NOV 2026

WHY IT WORKS

Color-coded editorial tiles expose many voices at once; the index itself has personality.

BORROW THE PRINCIPLE

Make headlines, authors, topics, and dates the visual material. Design for browsing and reading.

ASK BEFORE DESIGNING

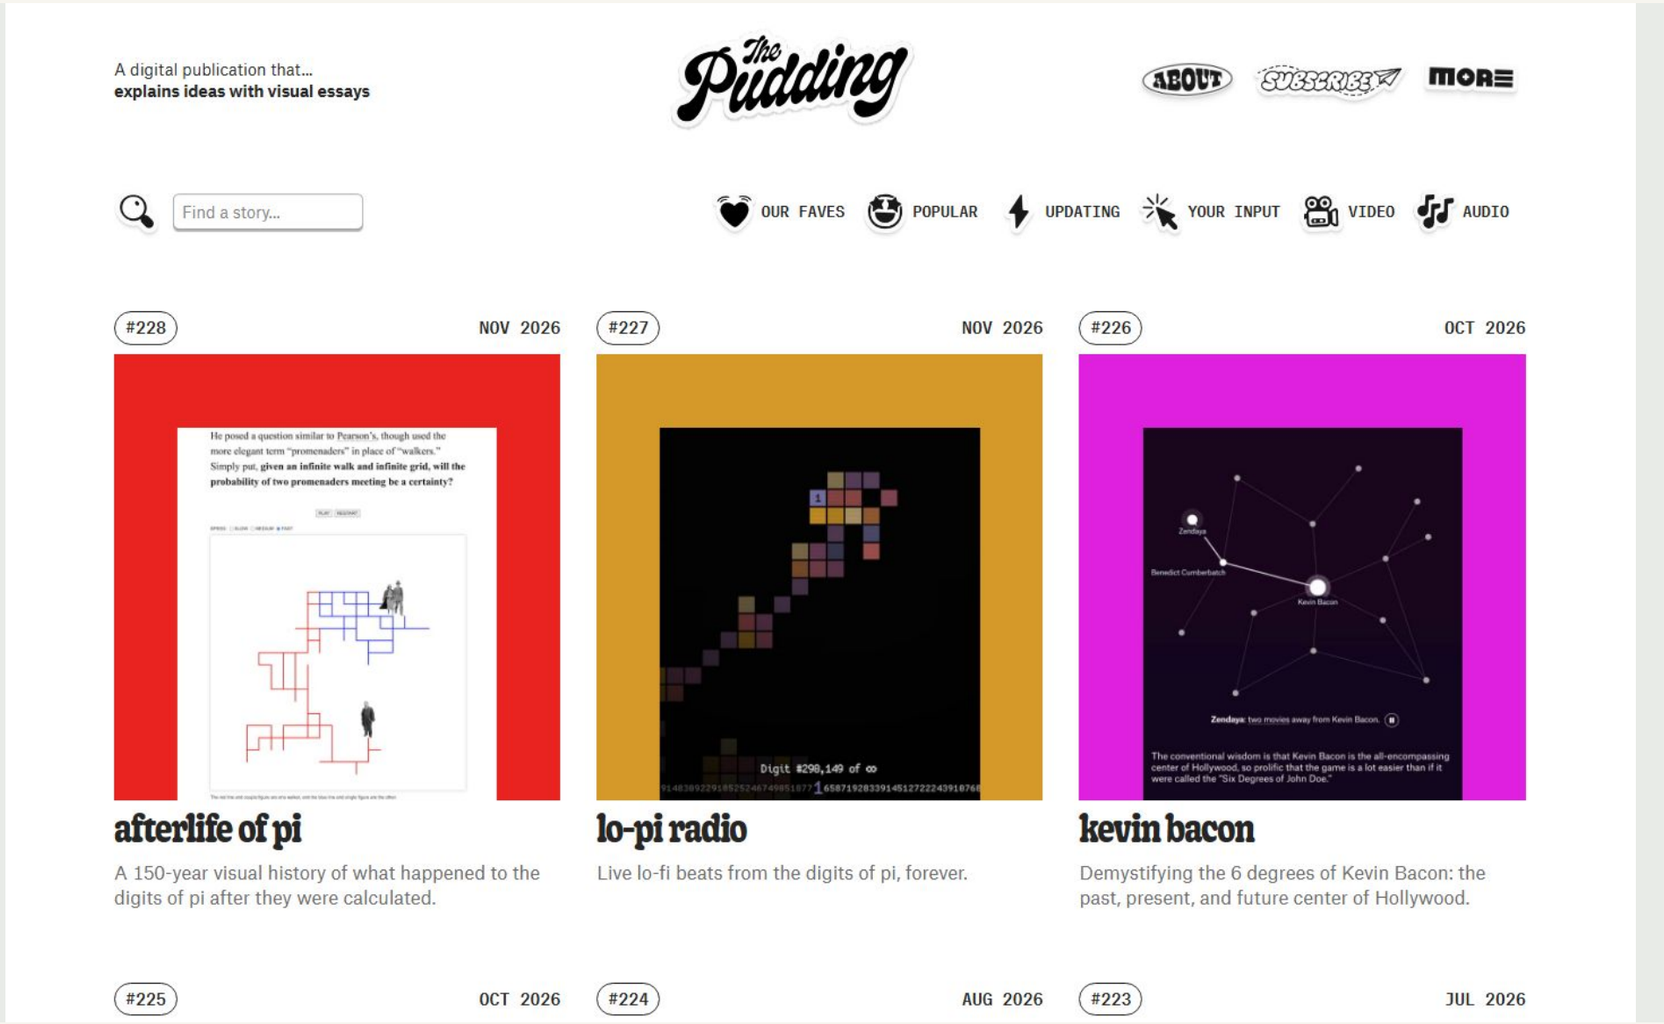

What is the editorial point of view and how many stories are real?

Study the composition and task order. Do not copy the brand, photograph, or exact layout.

VISUAL ESSAYS

The Pudding

pudding.cool

LIVE SITE SCREENSHOT / 11 NOV 2026

WHY IT WORKS

Each story preview has its own graphic while a shared grid keeps the collection navigable.

BORROW THE PRINCIPLE

Let the subject decide each story visual; keep search, categories, and reading entry points clear.

ASK BEFORE DESIGNING

Are there real charts, illustrations, or datasets to build the visual story from?

Study the composition and task order. Do not copy the brand, photograph, or exact layout.

INVESTIGATIVE NEWS

ProPublica

www.propublica.org

LIVE SITE SCREENSHOT / 11 NOV 2026

WHY IT WORKS

An assertive masthead and editorial type give the reporting authority; a real story leads.

BORROW THE PRINCIPLE

Prioritize headline, context, byline, evidence, and a comfortable article path.

ASK BEFORE DESIGNING

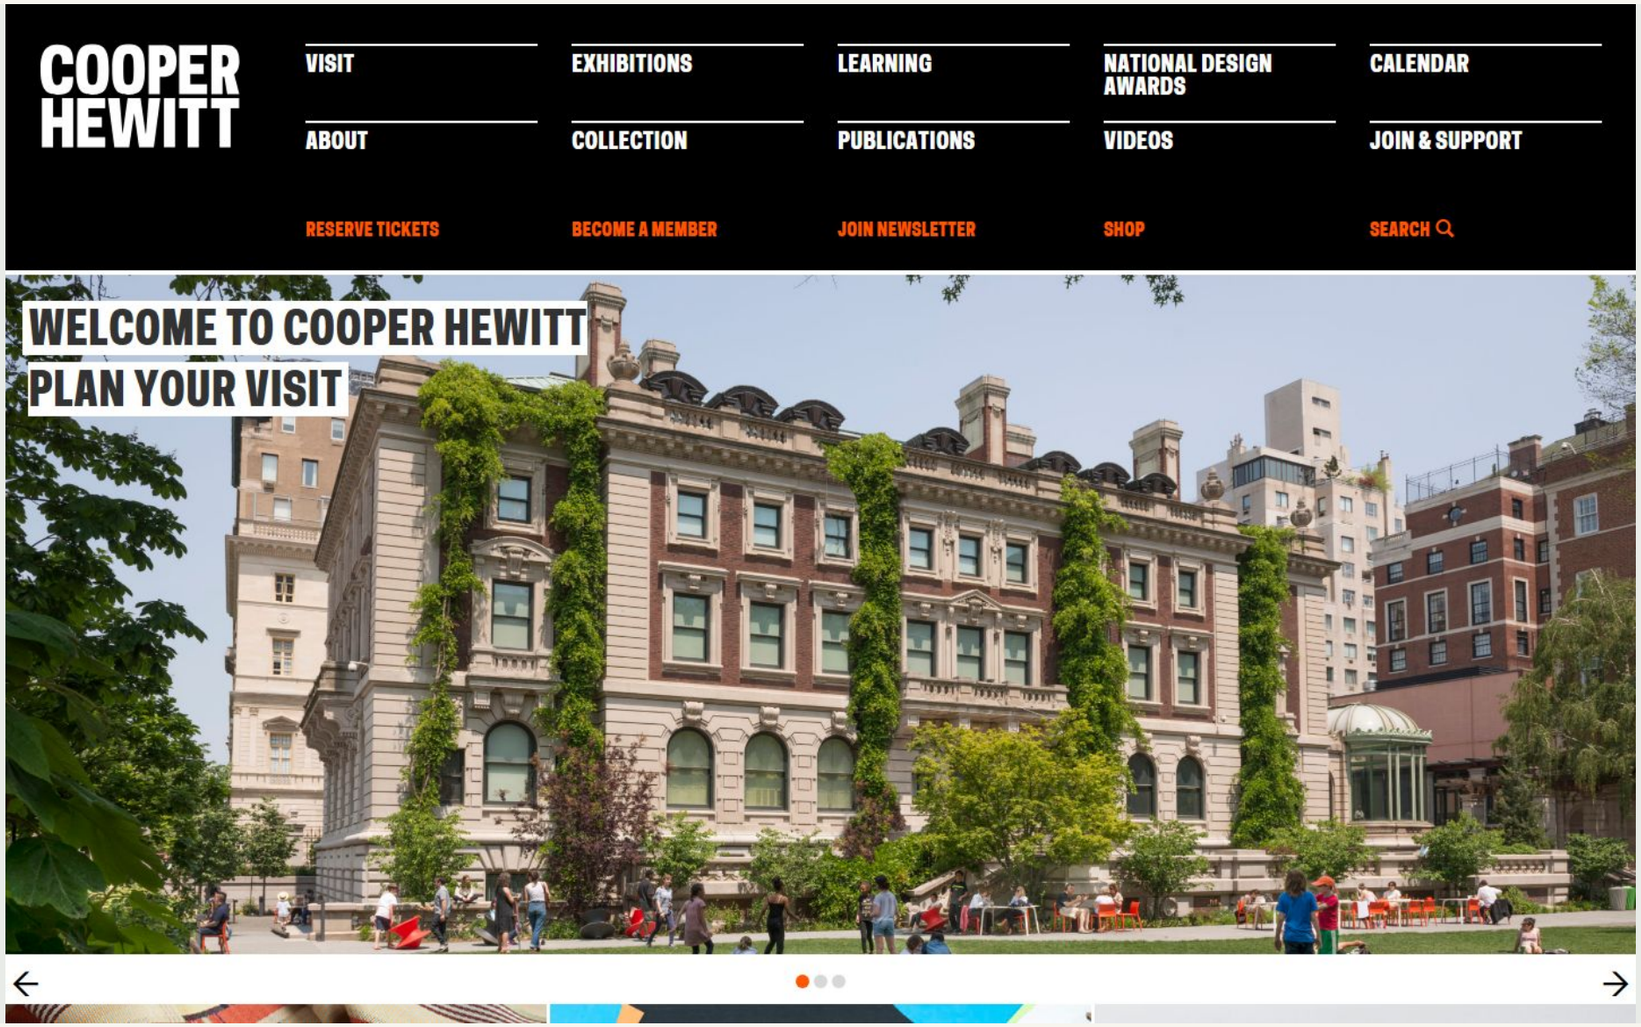

Which reporting, photography, and sourcing are ready to publish?

Study the composition and task order. Do not copy the brand, photograph, or exact layout.

MUSEUM

Cooper Hewitt

www.cooperhewitt.org

LIVE SITE SCREENSHOT / 11 NOV 2026

WHY IT WORKS

The institution and its physical setting are present, while visit and exhibition paths stay visible.

BORROW THE PRINCIPLE

Let actual art, objects, and place lead. Keep dates, tickets, hours, and access near the work.

ASK BEFORE DESIGNING

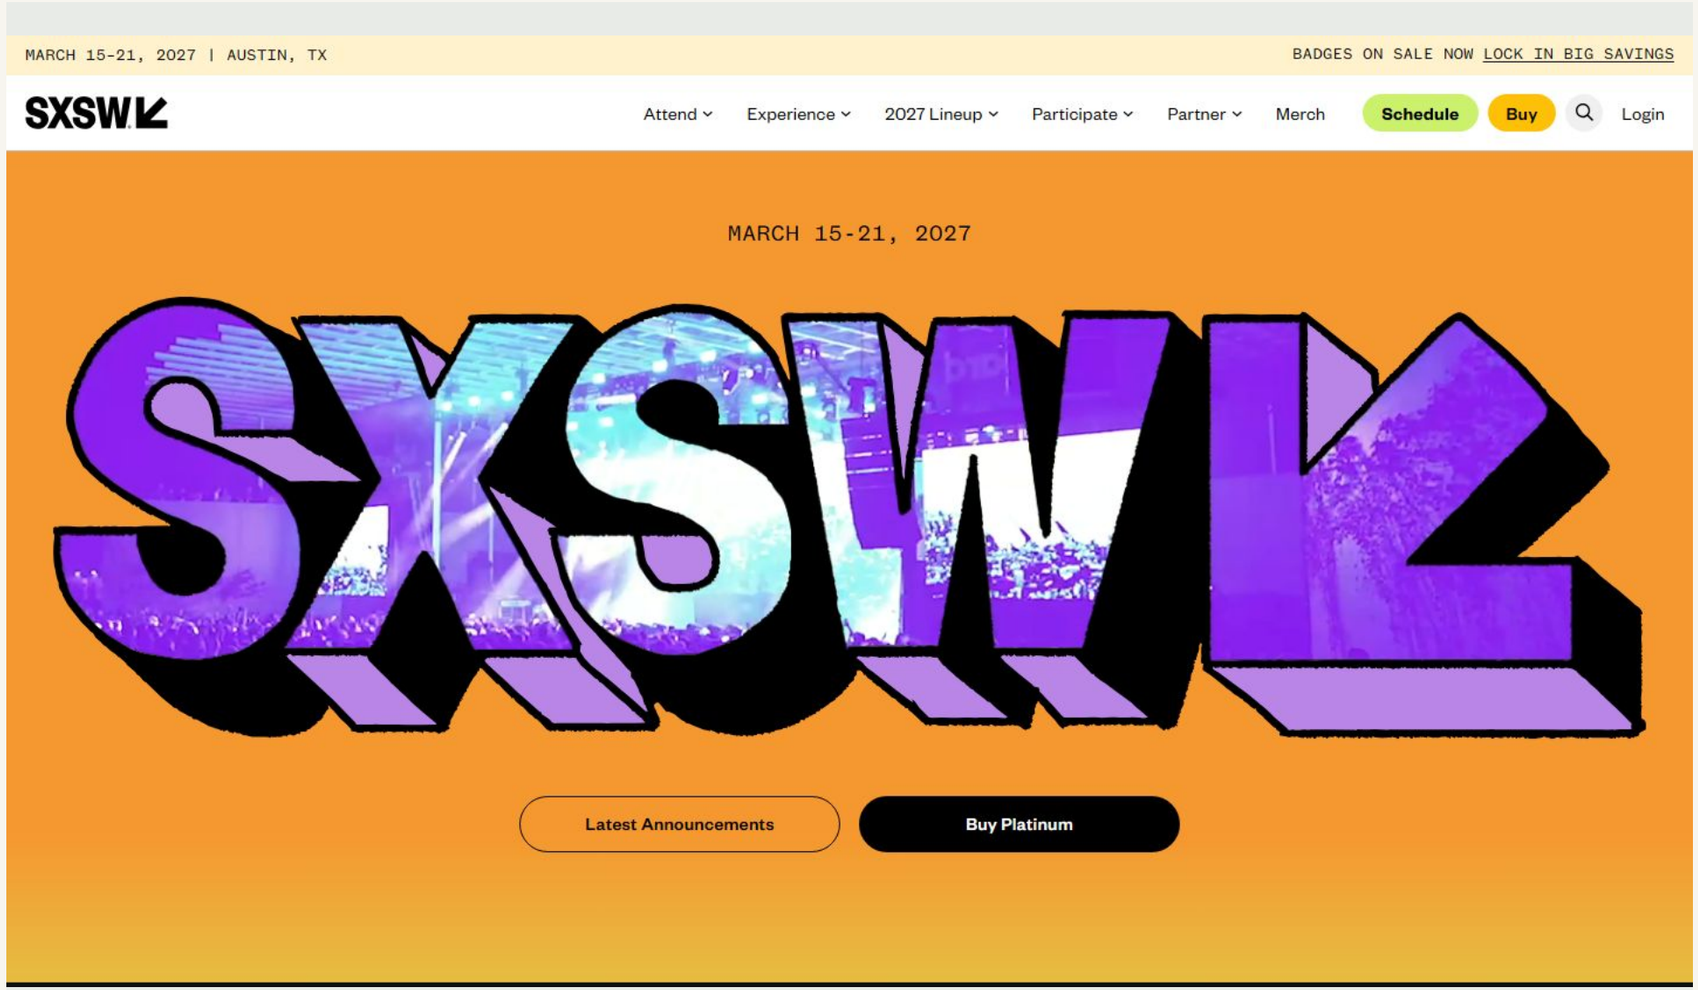

What artwork can be shown, and what are its credit and usage terms?

Study the composition and task order. Do not copy the brand, photograph, or exact layout.

FESTIVAL

SXSW

www.sxsw.com

LIVE SITE SCREENSHOT / 11 NOV 2026

WHY IT WORKS

The event identity is loud and unmistakable, with date and purchase routes still in sight.

BORROW THE PRINCIPLE

Build a distinctive event graphic system, then keep lineup, schedule, location, and tickets legible.

ASK BEFORE DESIGNING

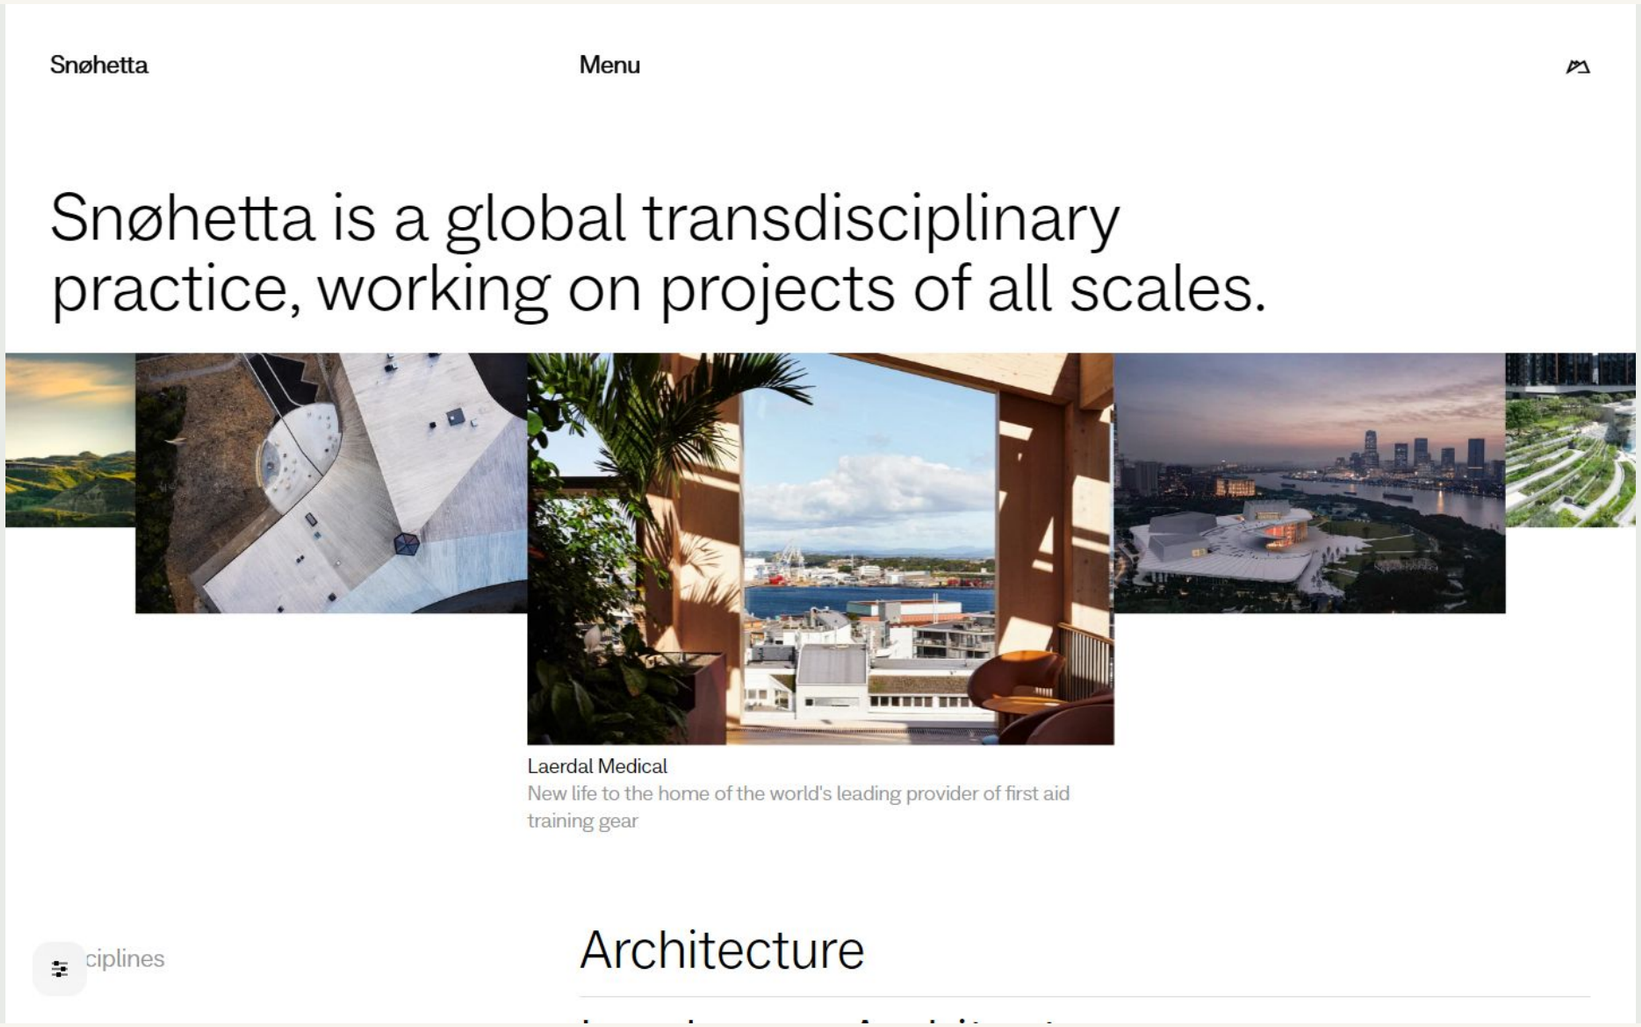

What is the event's existing identity, and which dates and ticket facts are confirmed?

Study the composition and task order. Do not copy the brand, photograph, or exact layout.

ARCHITECTURE STUDIO

Snøhetta

www.snohetta.com

LIVE SITE SCREENSHOT / 11 NOV 2026

WHY IT WORKS

A restrained statement makes room for varied project photography and the work itself.

BORROW THE PRINCIPLE

Show selected projects at different scales. Give each project context, location, and role.

ASK BEFORE DESIGNING

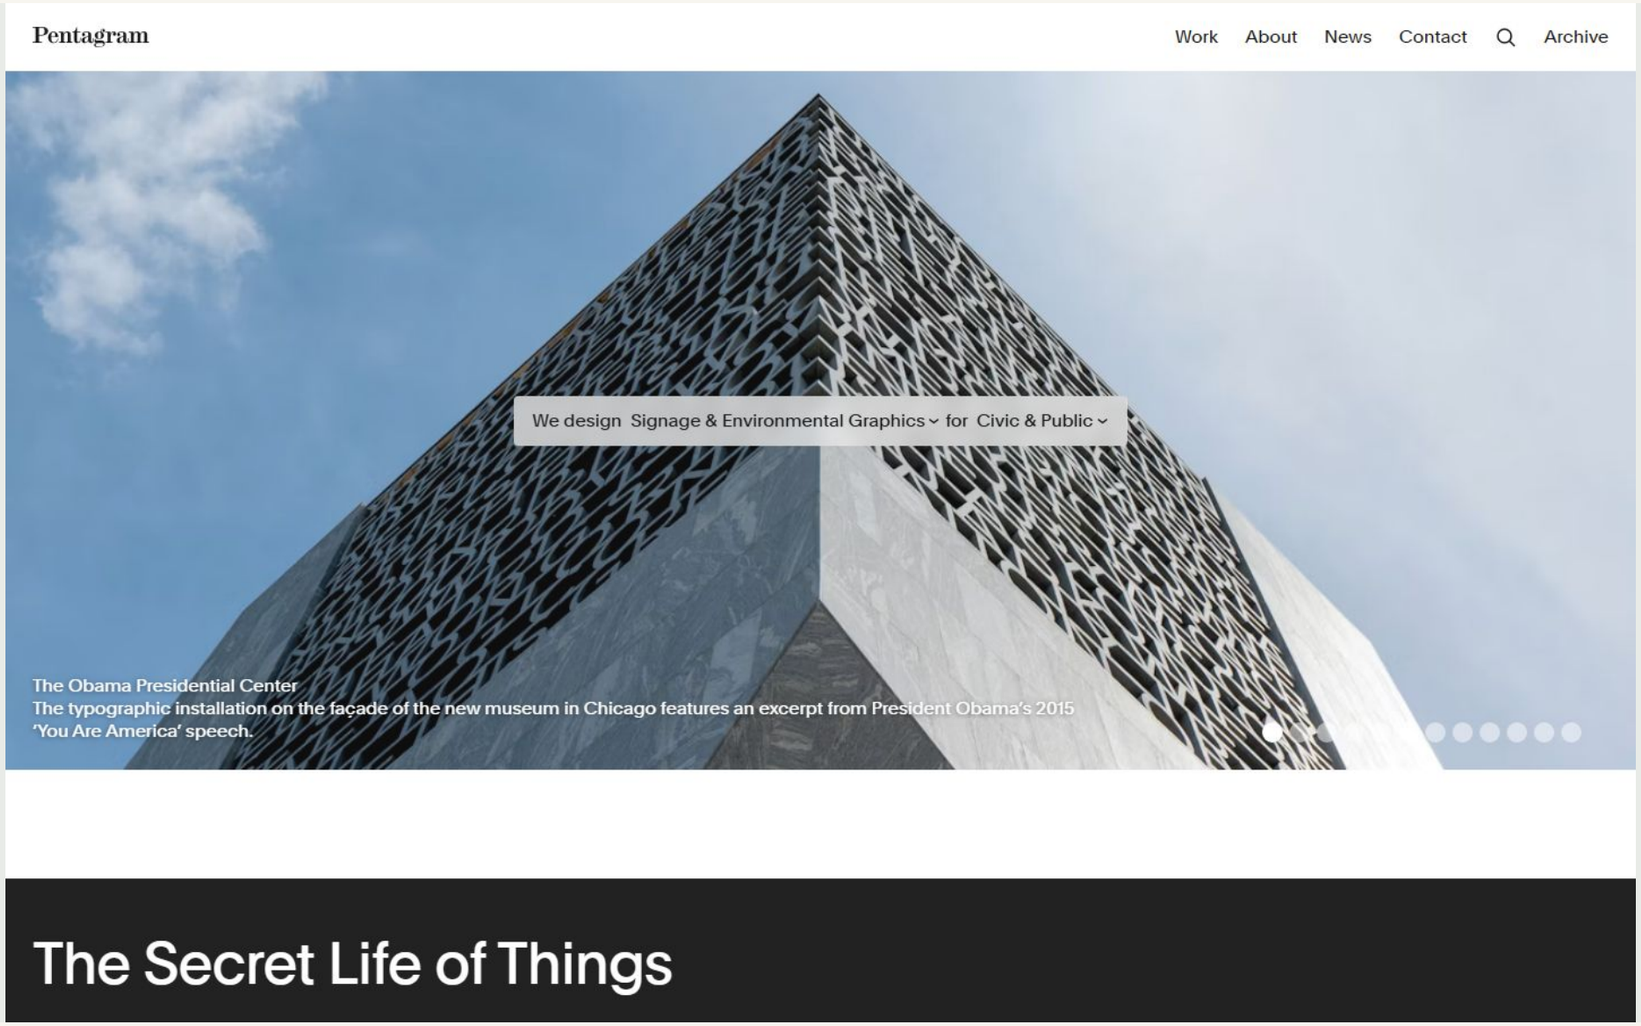

Which built projects and approved photographs best represent the practice?

Study the composition and task order. Do not copy the brand, photograph, or exact layout.

DESIGN STUDIO

Pentagram

www.pentagram.com

LIVE SITE SCREENSHOT / 11 NOV 2026

WHY IT WORKS

Large project imagery dominates while navigation and credits stay spare.

BORROW THE PRINCIPLE

Let finished work lead; explain the problem, contribution, and result on project pages.

ASK BEFORE DESIGNING

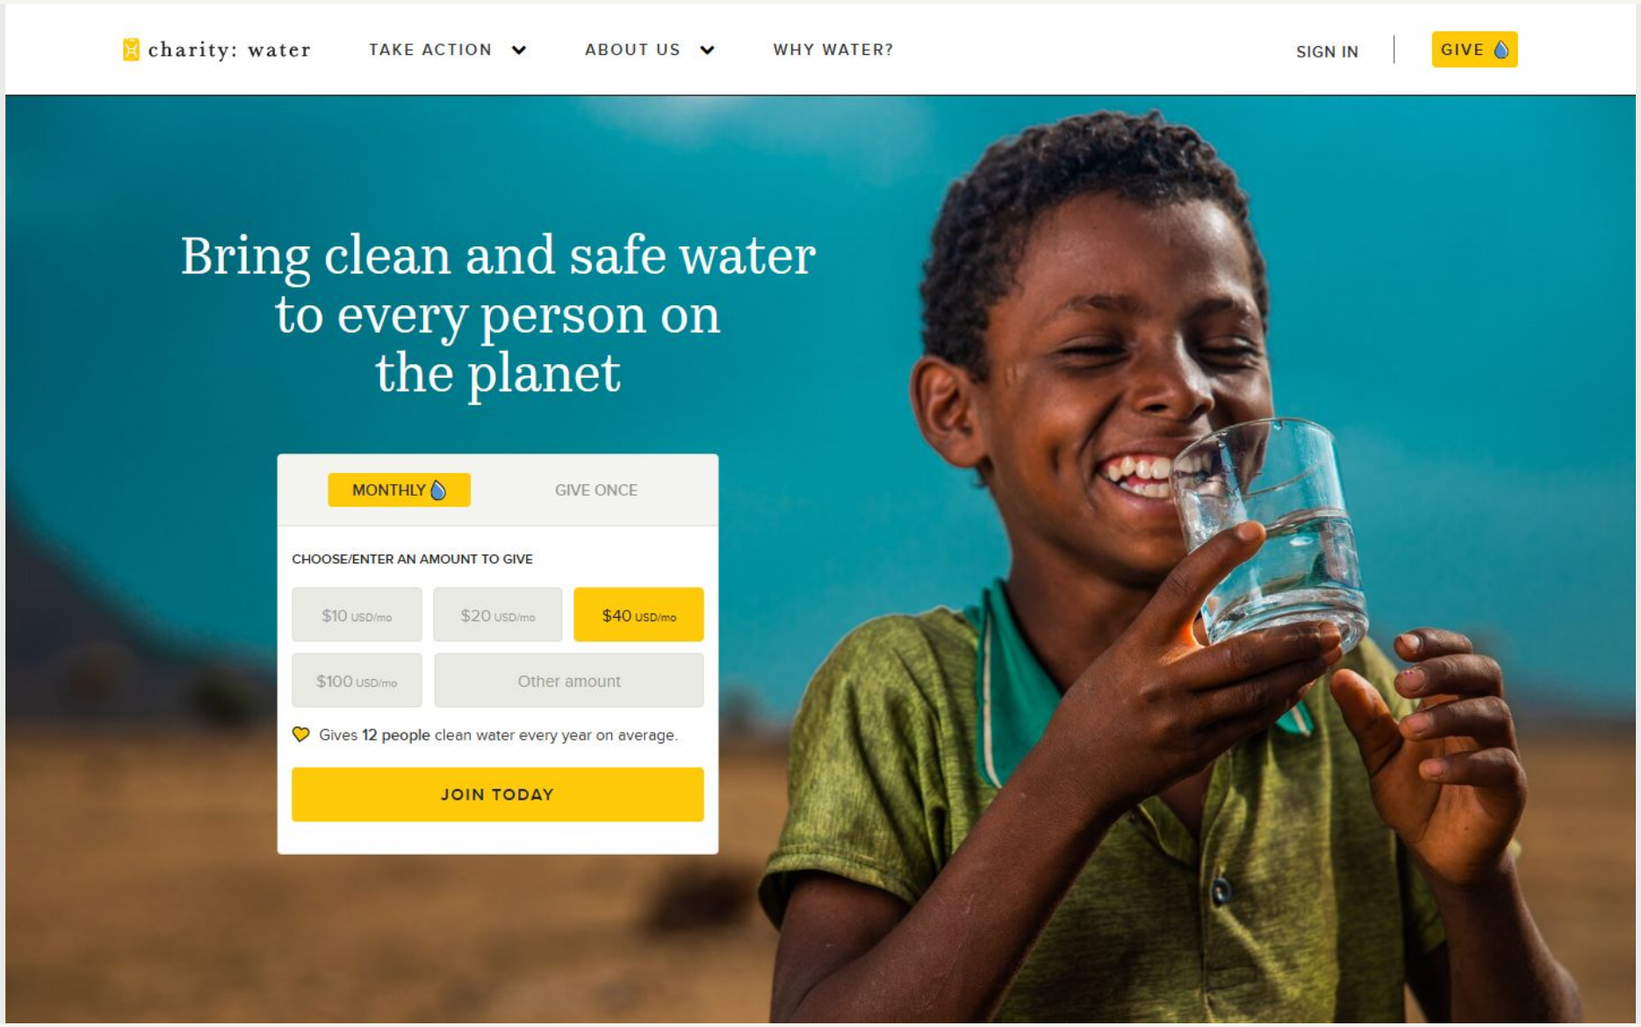

Which projects can be shown publicly, and who should be credited?

Study the composition and task order. Do not copy the brand, photograph, or exact layout.

NONPROFIT

charity: water

www.charitywater.org

LIVE SITE SCREENSHOT / 11 NOV 2026

WHY IT WORKS

A human photograph, clear mission, and donation control make the request immediate.

BORROW THE PRINCIPLE

Use authentic stories and documented impact. Make amount, frequency, and next step plain.

ASK BEFORE DESIGNING

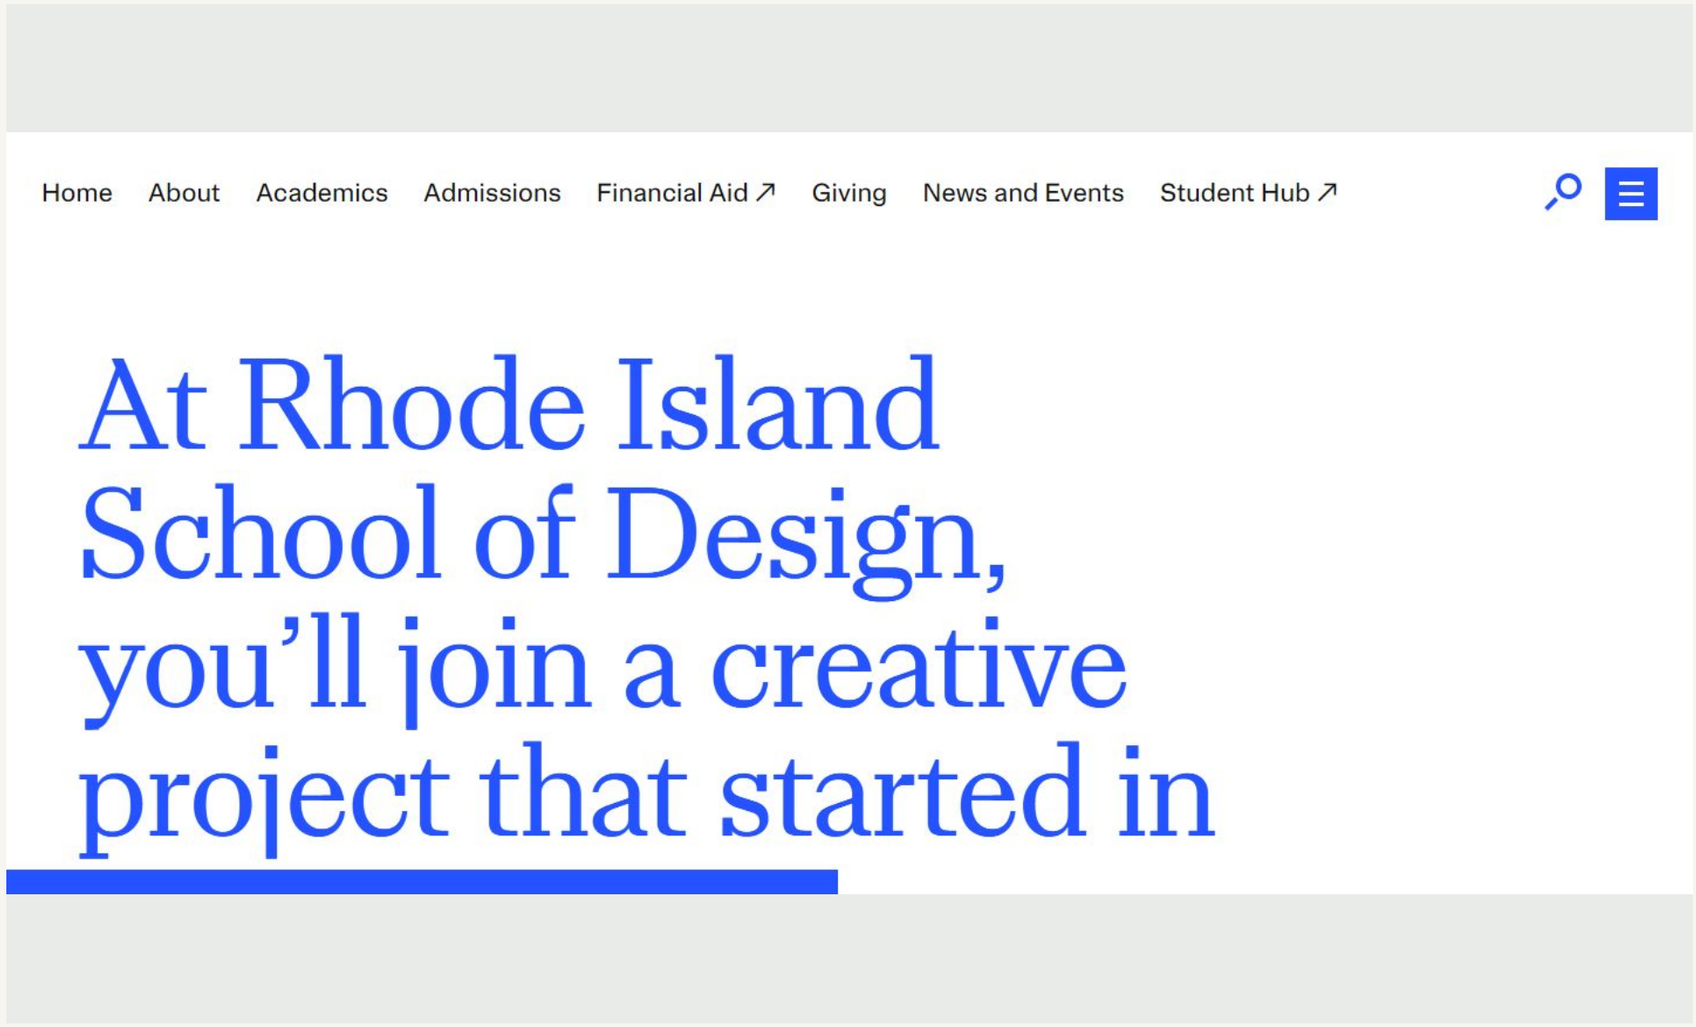

What real stories, photos, impact data, and donation flow are approved?

Study the composition and task order. Do not copy the brand, photograph, or exact layout.

ART SCHOOL

RISD

www.risd.edu

LIVE SITE SCREENSHOT / 11 NOV 2026

WHY IT WORKS

Large expressive typography makes the school's creative promise visible before a brochure grid.

BORROW THE PRINCIPLE

Balance institutional clarity with a visual expression of student work and culture.

ASK BEFORE DESIGNING

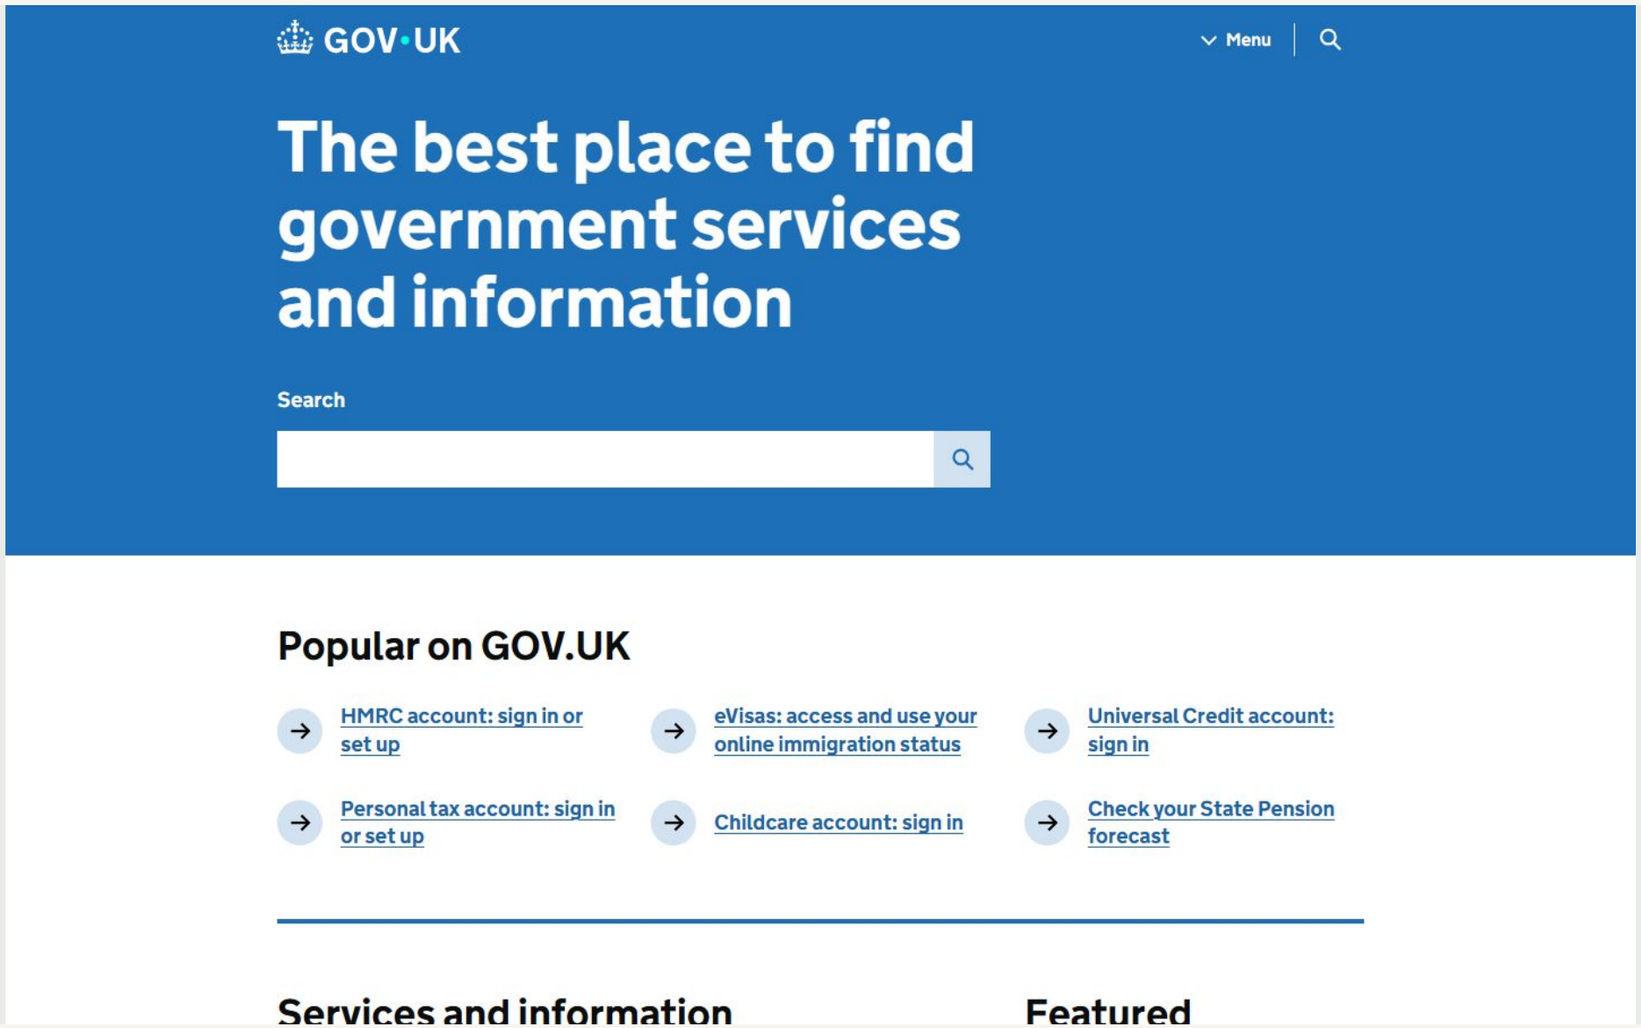

What student work can be featured, and what admissions task matters most?

Study the composition and task order. Do not copy the brand, photograph, or exact layout.

GOVERNMENT PORTAL

GOV.UK

www.gov.uk

LIVE SITE SCREENSHOT / 11 NOV 2026

WHY IT WORKS

A plain search-led system puts the public task ahead of decorative branding.

BORROW THE PRINCIPLE

Use clear language, stable navigation, accessible forms, and predictable confirmation.

ASK BEFORE DESIGNING

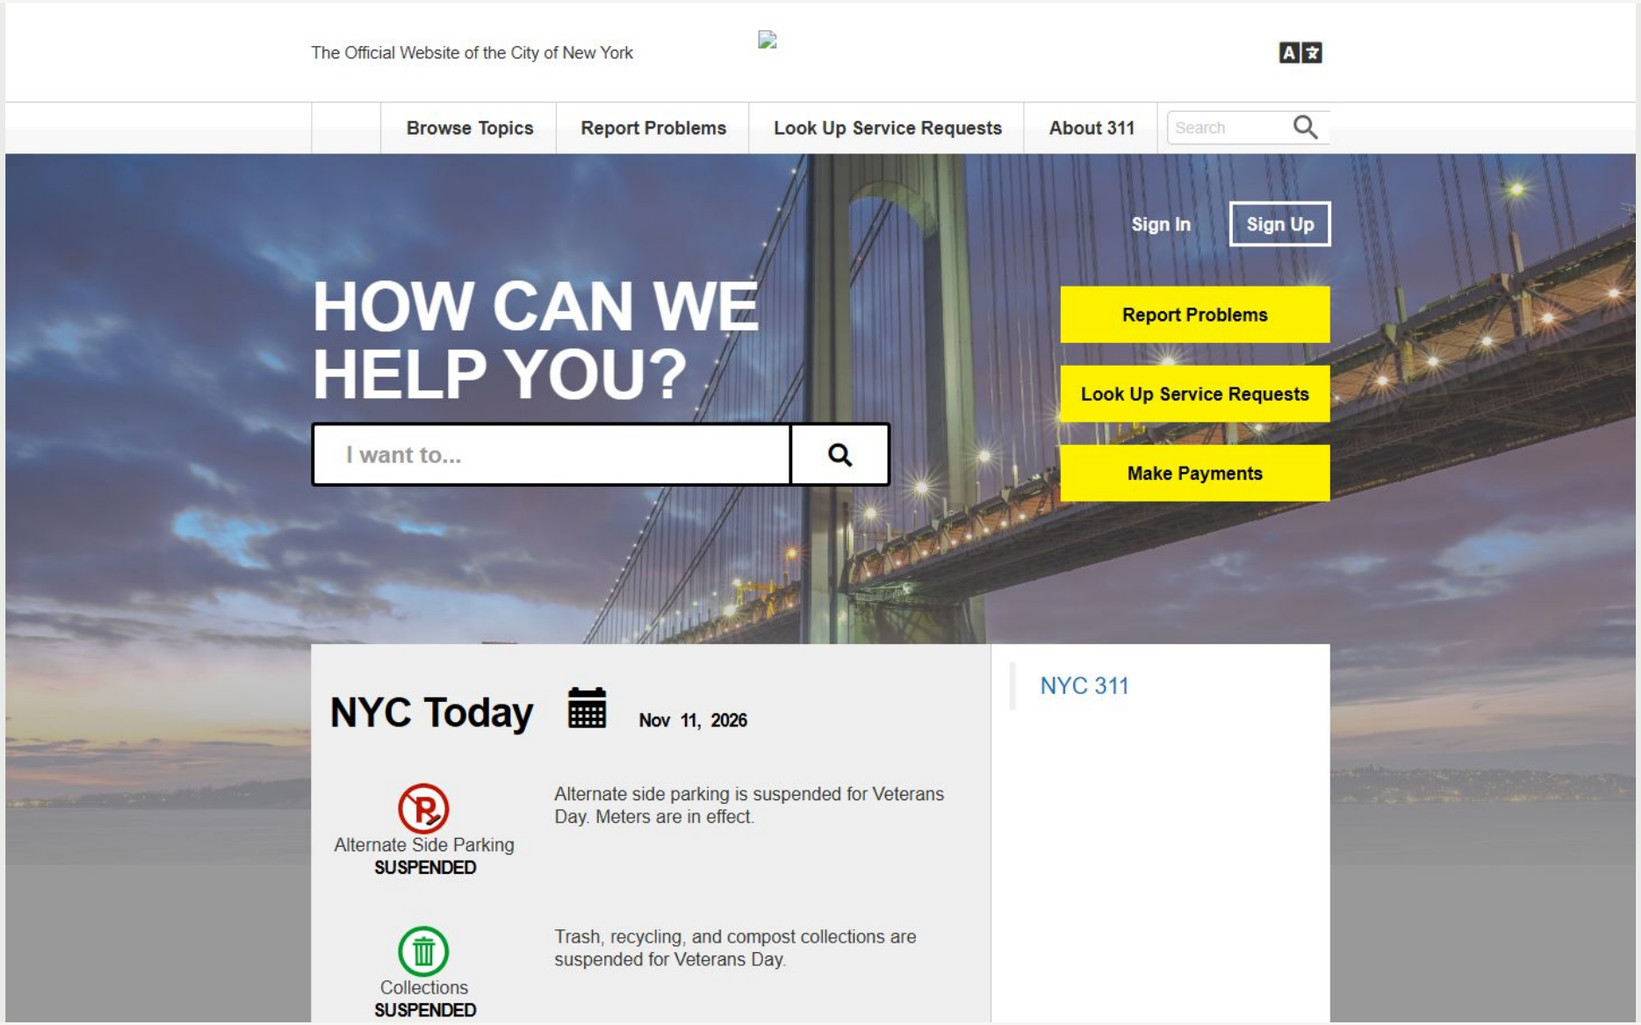

Which exact task must a visitor complete, and what languages or access needs apply?

Study the composition and task order. Do not copy the brand, photograph, or exact layout.

CIVIC SERVICE

NYC311

portal.311.nyc.gov

LIVE SITE SCREENSHOT / 11 NOV 2026

WHY IT WORKS

Problem reporting and request lookup are prominent, with a search route for uncertain users.

BORROW THE PRINCIPLE

Organize by user action rather than agency structure; make status and next steps visible.

ASK BEFORE DESIGNING

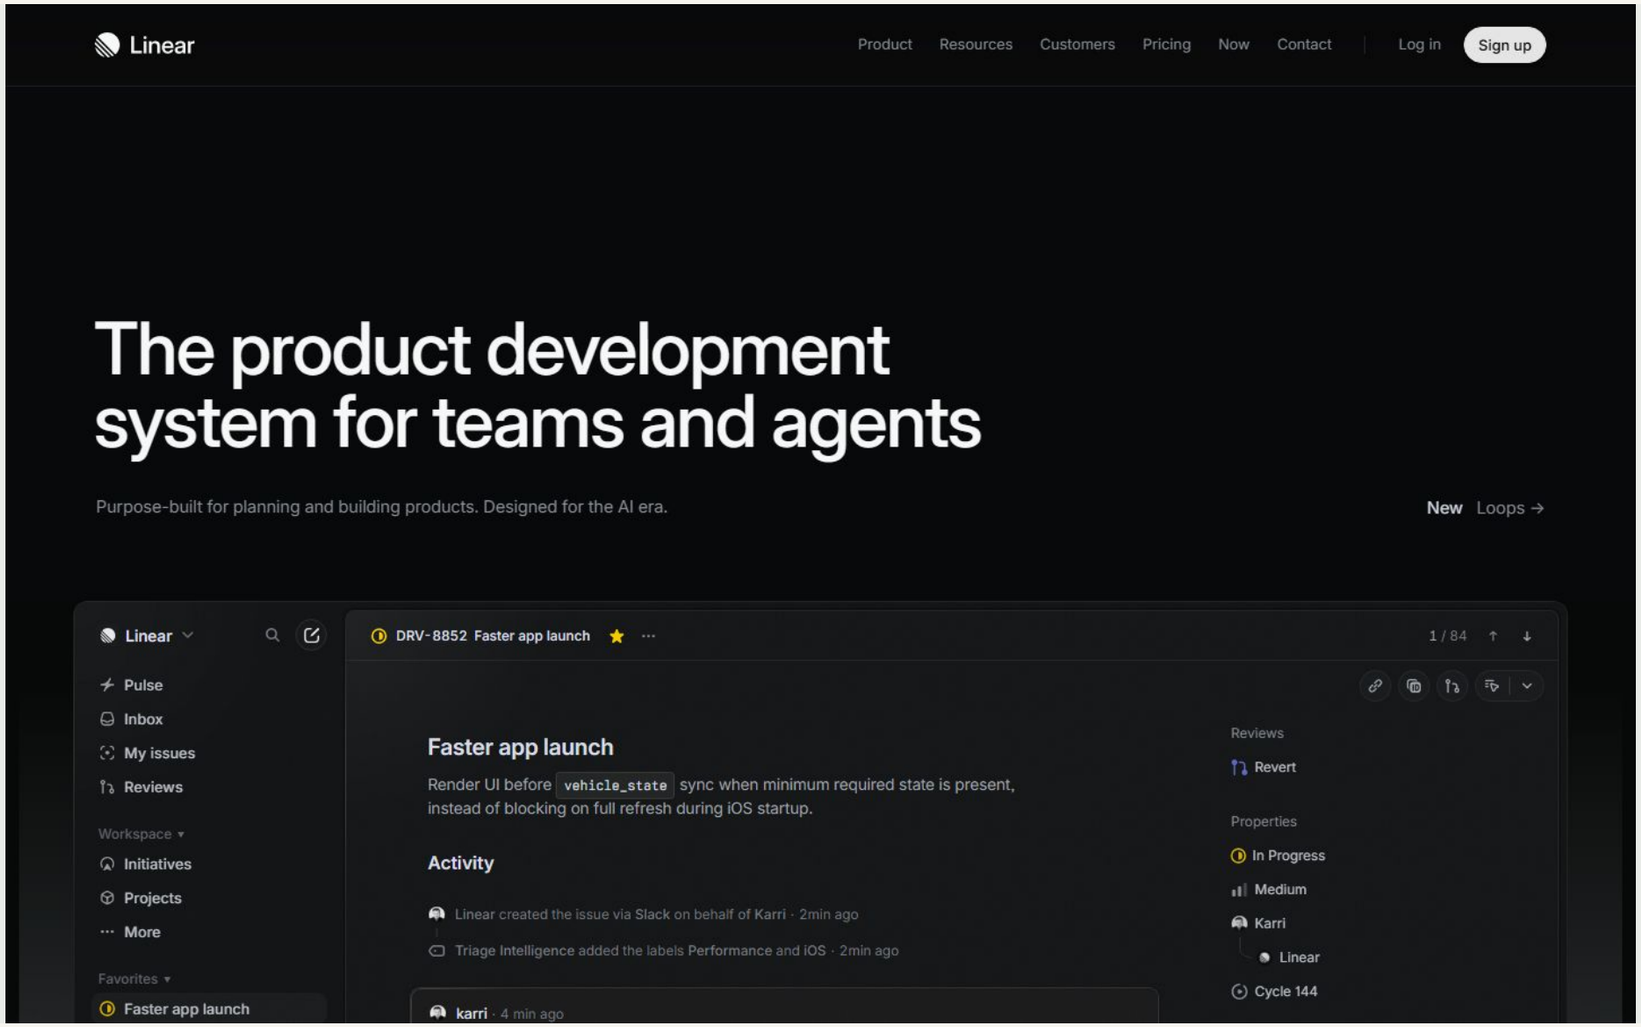

Which requests can actually be submitted or checked in this experience?

Study the composition and task order. Do not copy the brand, photograph, or exact layout.

SOFTWARE PRODUCT

Linear

linear.app

LIVE SITE SCREENSHOT / 11 NOV 2026

WHY IT WORKS

The product interface appears beside a concise claim, so visitors can judge the tool.

BORROW THE PRINCIPLE

Show a representative workflow and real UI states. Let the product prove the promise.

ASK BEFORE DESIGNING

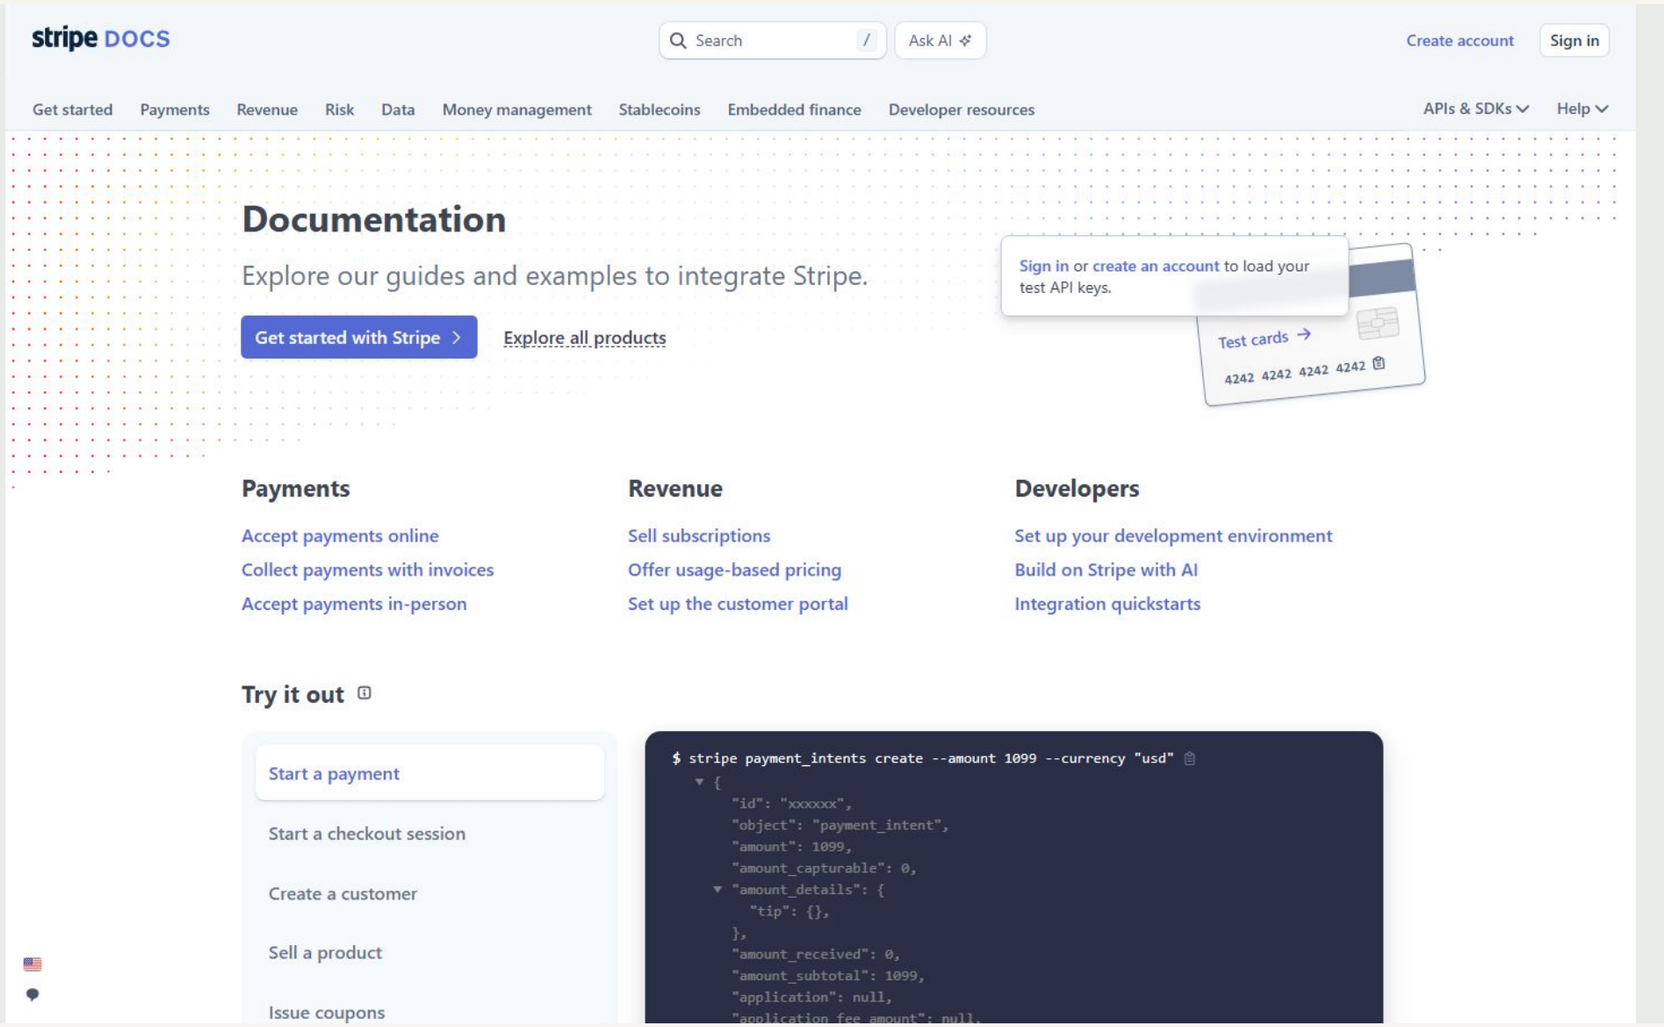

Which working product screen best demonstrates the core job?

Study the composition and task order. Do not copy the brand, photograph, or exact layout.

DEVELOPER DOCS

Stripe Docs

docs.stripe.com

LIVE SITE SCREENSHOT / 11 NOV 2026

WHY IT WORKS

Search, task links, and code examples let developers start from the job they need to do.

BORROW THE PRINCIPLE

Lead with quick starts, reliable examples, clear hierarchy, and fast navigation.

ASK BEFORE DESIGNING

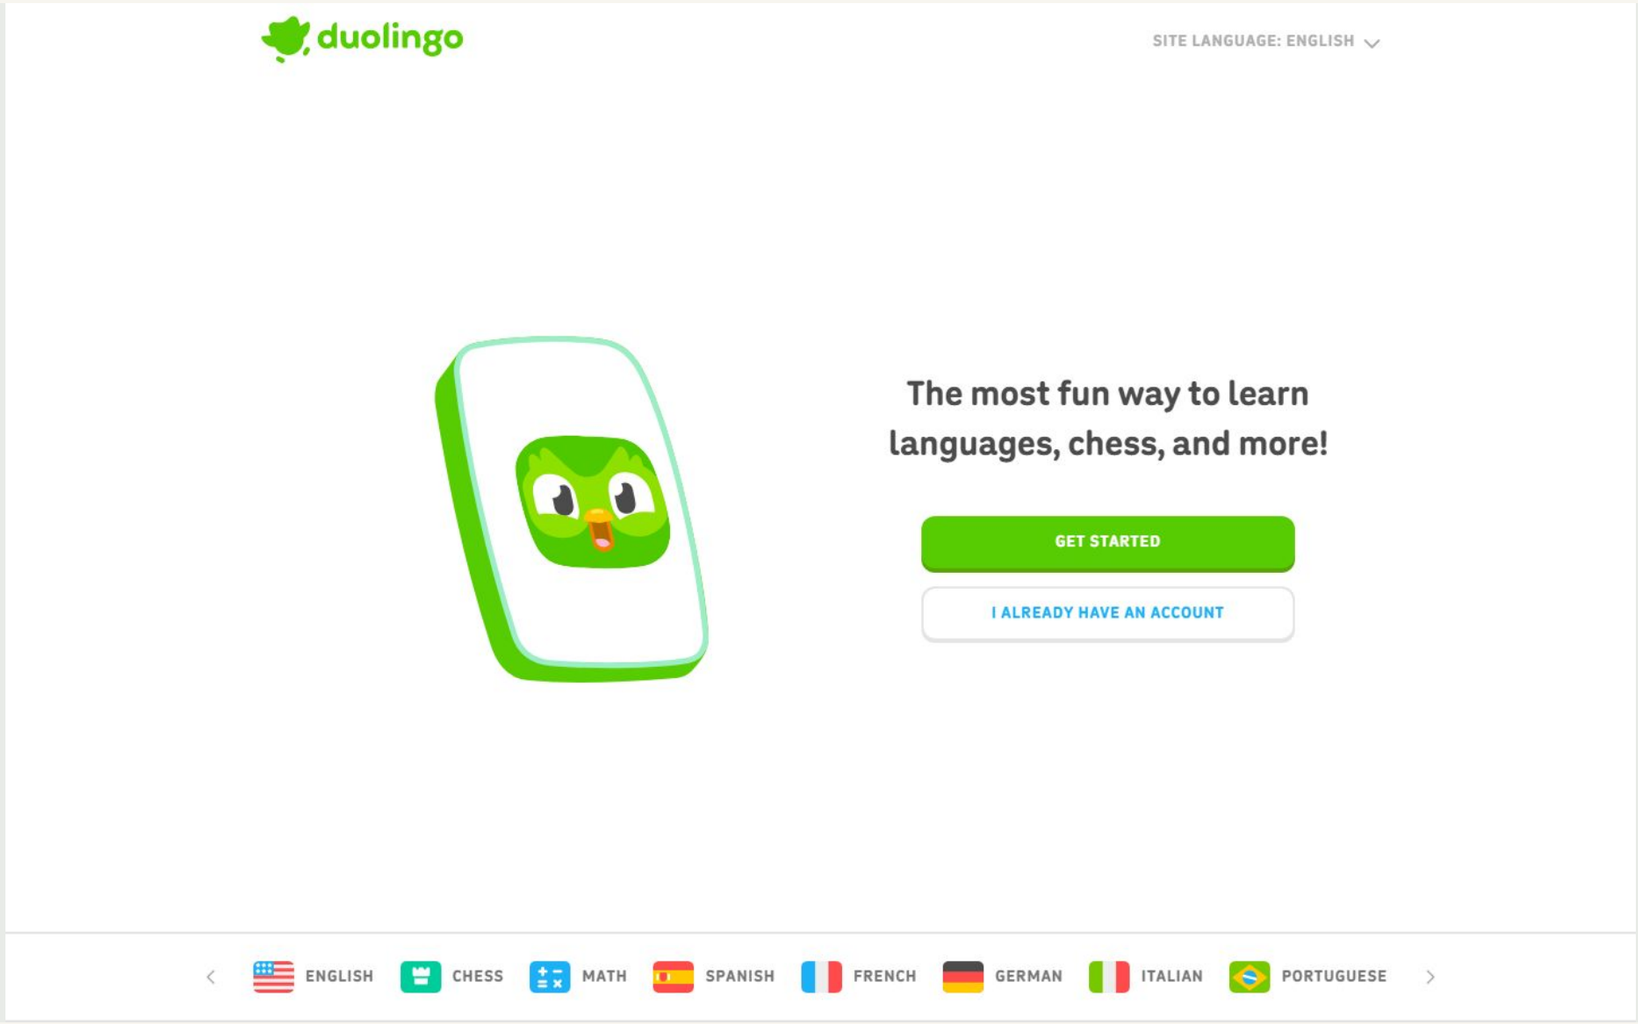

Who is the developer, and what is the first successful integration step?

Study the composition and task order. Do not copy the brand, photograph, or exact layout.

LEARNING PRODUCT

Duolingo

www.duolingo.com

LIVE SITE SCREENSHOT / 11 NOV 2026

WHY IT WORKS

A recognizable character and one clear action make the beginning feel approachable.

BORROW THE PRINCIPLE

Use friendly visual feedback, but keep the learning task and progress understandable.

ASK BEFORE DESIGNING

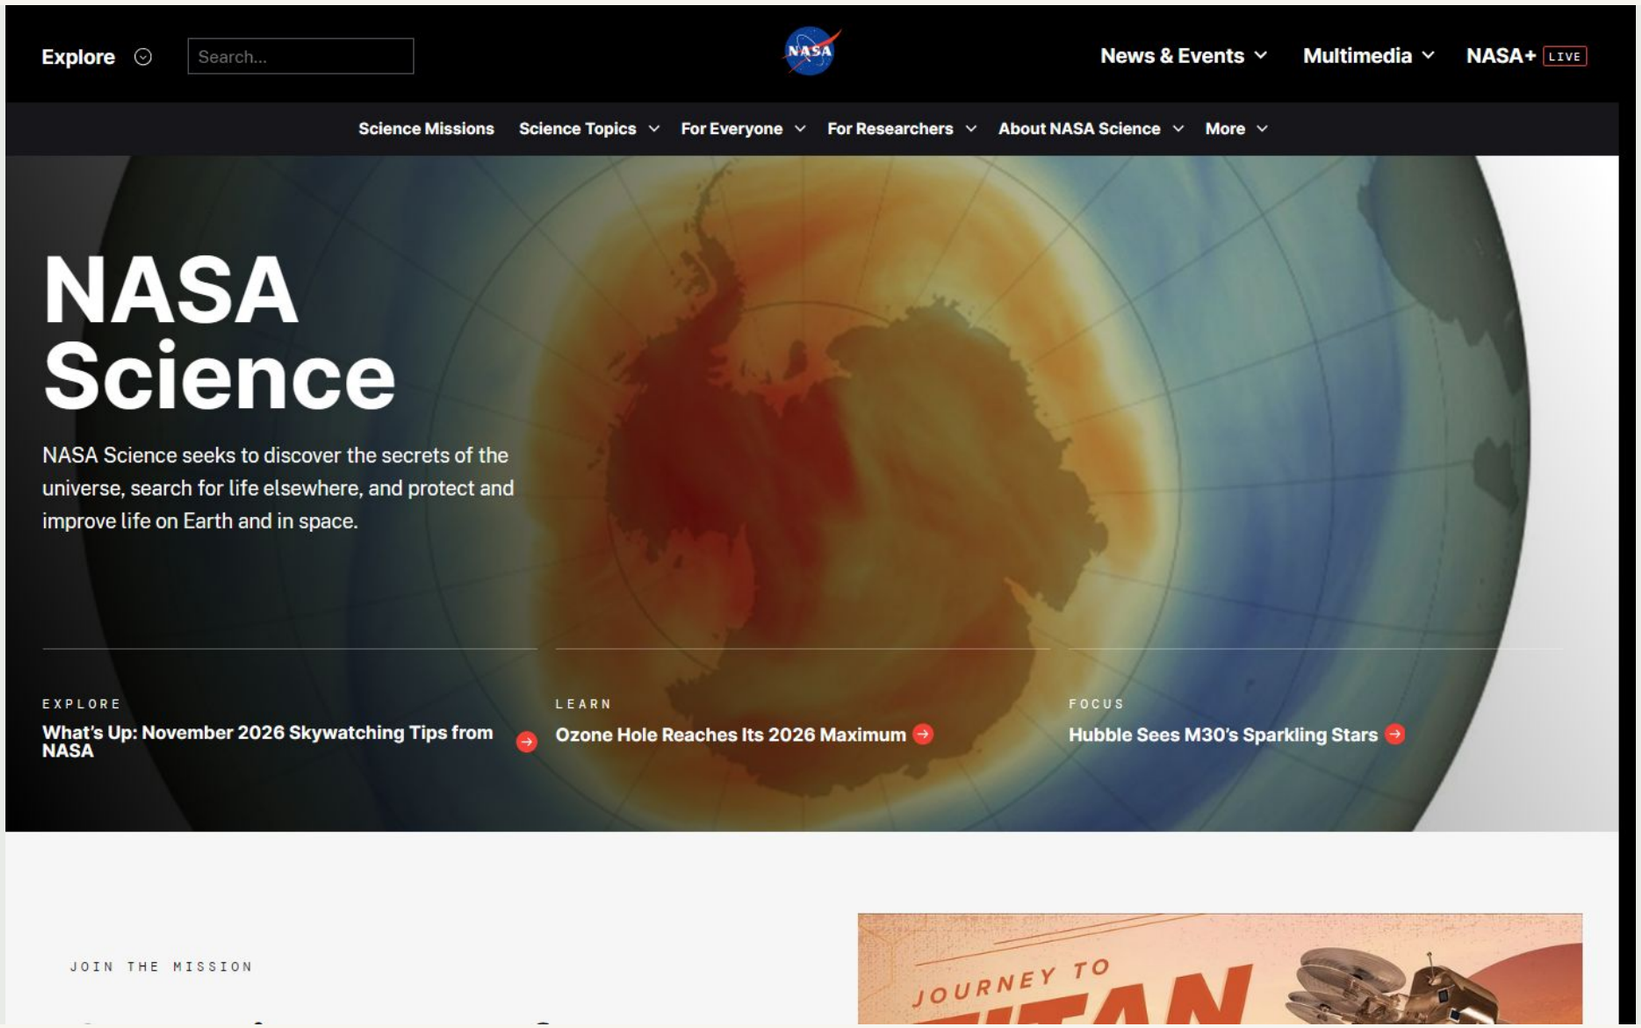

What should a new learner achieve in the first session?

Study the composition and task order. Do not copy the brand, photograph, or exact layout.

SCIENCE PORTAL

NASA Science

science.nasa.gov

LIVE SITE SCREENSHOT / 11 NOV 2026

WHY IT WORKS

Scientific imagery creates scale while mission, topic, and news routes frame exploration.

BORROW THE PRINCIPLE

Use authentic imagery and captions; distinguish discovery from action and explanation.

ASK BEFORE DESIGNING

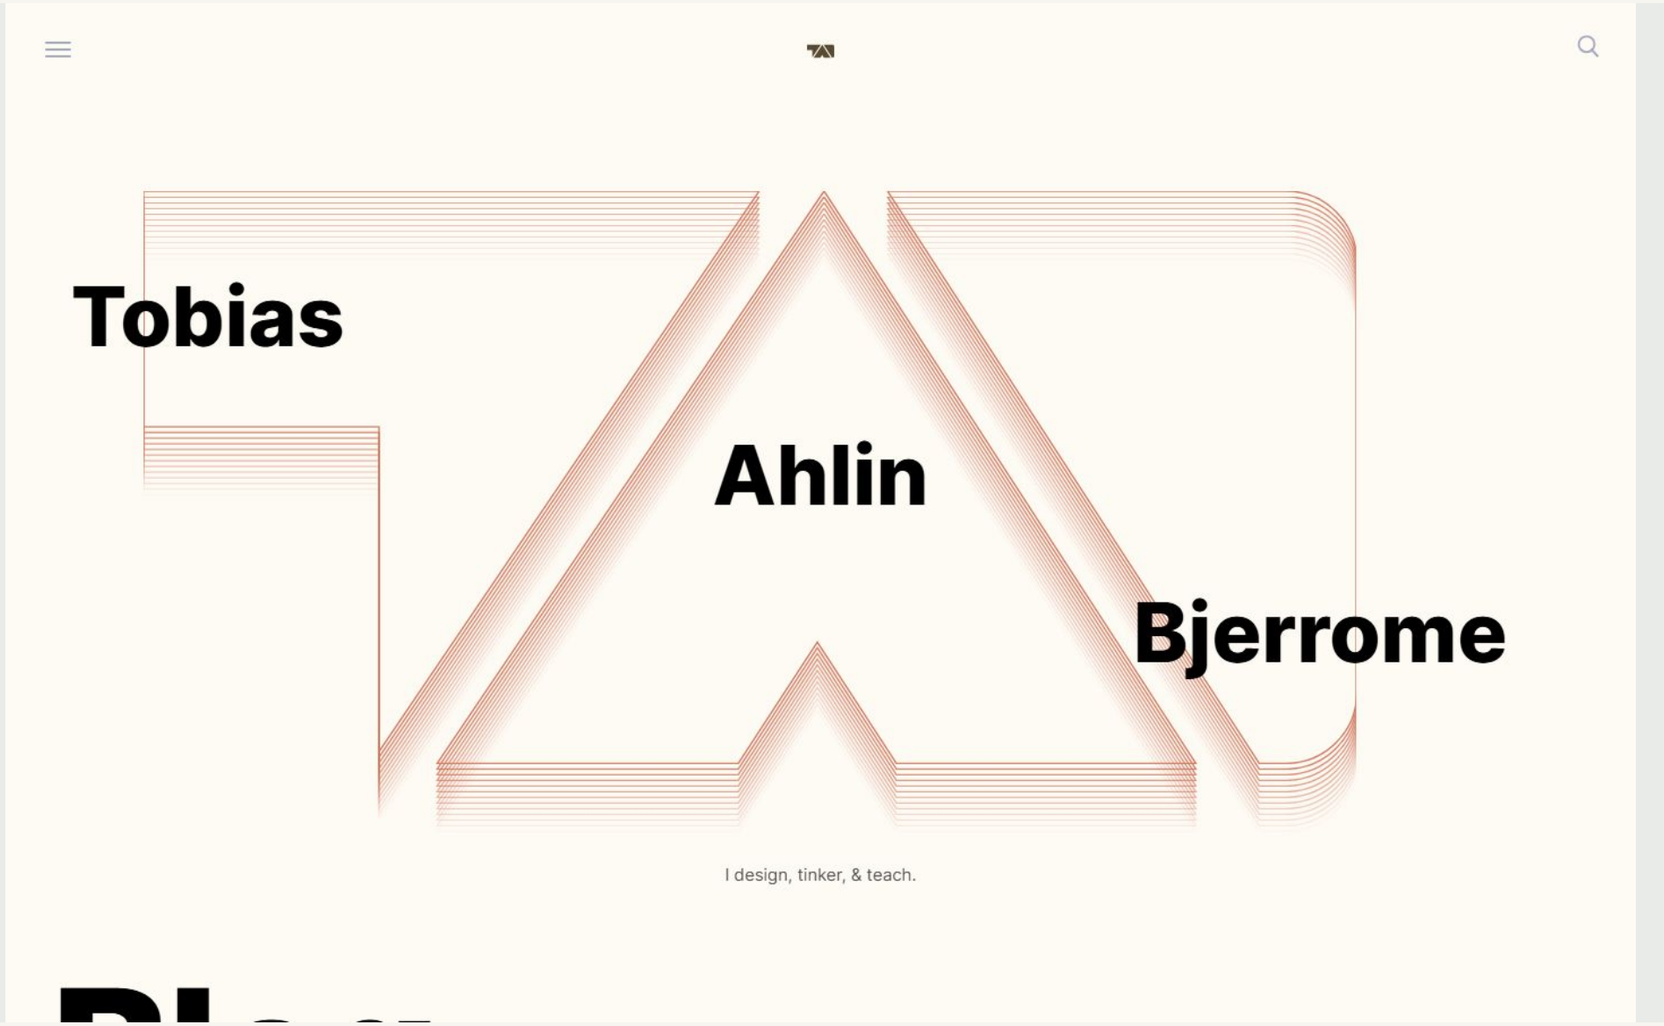

Which images, facts, and data are verified and ready to credit?

Study the composition and task order. Do not copy the brand, photograph, or exact layout.

PERSONAL PORTFOLIO

Tobias Ahlin

tobiasahlin.com

LIVE SITE SCREENSHOT / 11 NOV 2026

WHY IT WORKS

A personal type treatment gives a memorable first impression without hiding the maker.

BORROW THE PRINCIPLE

Let the person's actual work, voice, and process shape the visual identity.

ASK BEFORE DESIGNING

Which projects and point of view should someone remember after visiting?

Study the composition and task order. Do not copy the brand, photograph, or exact layout.

Ask only what changes the design.

Claude should ask two to four focused questions when the brief lacks decisive information. If the answers are already in the project, use them. If the user wants progress immediately, state reasonable assumptions and build.

01 / IMAGERY

Do you have real photos, product images, artwork, or footage? May I source licensed images online if needed?

An actual place, person, or object can give a design its identity. Do not silently substitute generic stock.

02 / BRAND

Are any colors, fonts, logo rules, or visual references fixed? What should this definitely not feel like?

A preferred color is a constraint to work with, not something to override because a pattern checker dislikes it.

03 / CONTENT

What facts, product states, prices, dates, metrics, and proof are real and approved?

Visual polish cannot rescue invented claims or empty demo interactions.

04 / TASK

What should the visitor do first, and what happens after they click?

A radio player, booking flow, checkout, or form needs an honest working or demo state.

Ask in one message. Make a recommendation when the user has no preference.

Make visual judgment a real gate.

Before designing, identify the site type, audience, primary task, and visual material.
If key facts are missing, ask at most four high-impact questions together: imagery and permission to source licensed photos, brand constraints, real content/proof, and the visitor action. Do not ask for preferences already answered by the brief.

Study several relevant real sites, including different styles, for task order and composition. Do not copy their branding or layout. Make an original direction specific to this project, then render desktop and mobile before judging it.

Judge the actual visual result: Does it feel like this kind of place or product?
Is there enough authentic visual material? Are scale, rhythm, imagery, and type balanced across the whole page? Does it look good at the real viewport size?
If the answer is no, redesign the composition. A scanner pass is not a visual pass.

Make primary actions honest. A missing stream, checkout, or form must not appear to work. Never invent photos, proof, customers, or performance numbers.

SEND CLAUDE THIS PDF AS A REFERENCE. ASK IT TO APPLY THE PRINCIPLES, NOT RECREATE A SCREENSHOT.

All 24 screenshots were captured from the linked public sites on 11 Nov 2026; live pages can change.